

Sara And Leena

Each friend I know is individual in their own way, we all differ from one another in personality, habits, and everyone has their opinions and views on different topics but we all respect each other and are happy to hear our different views.

Leena is a passionate and talkative person, she goes on and on talking about the things she likes, you can start a conversation with her at any topic and in any time, and for some reason you won't get bored hearing her.

As for Sara she is quite, loves reading and enjoys spending her time writing poetry or short stories, she adores all kinds of arts, alongside her passions, she's diligent and caring in person.

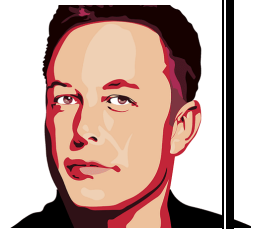

You might think these two won't get along that well together but you'll be shocked that they actually complement each other perfectly, if Sara is feeling down or just bored Leena is there to cheer her up, and if Leena wants to learn something about an art piece she finds interesting or a famous poet she can ask Sara about it.

I admire them both for how good of friends they've been to me and always wishes them the best.

Vision 2030

The Vision 2030 project expresses the future goals and plans set by the government in the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia to turn them into achievements by the year 2030.

There are many plans but the most important goal of this project is to provide a development and investment alternative for the Kingdom other than oil, so the country's economy can be more stable for longer generations.

The Kingdom has achieved a large number of huge projects since the Vision started and up until today, and will continue building on the remaining projects until the vision we believe in is completed.
