H READING

Read the two stories. Then answer the questions.

America's Dumbest Criminals

CALIFORNIA, USA—A man, who was in serious financial trouble after having been fired because of inadequate reading and writing skills, decided that robbing a bank would be the solution to all of his problems. He chose the Bank of America in downtown San Francisco as his target. He was walking into the branch when he realized he had not written his stick-up note. He decided to go through with it anyway and got a deposit slip from the bank and wrote his note: "This iz a stickup. Put all your munny in this bag."

While standing in line to give his note to the teller, he began to worry that someone had seen him write the note and might call the police. He decided to leave the Bank of America and try another bank. He crossed the street to the Wells Fargo bank. After waiting a few minutes in line, he handed his note to the Wells Fargo teller.

The teller read the note and, judging from the spelling errors, realized that the robber was not very bright. He told him that he could not accept his stick-up note since it had been written on a Bank of America deposit slip. He explained that he could only accept the note if it were written on a Wells Fargo slip and that he would either have to fill in one of their slips or go back to the Bank of America.

Looking somewhat confused, but taking the teller's word for it, the man decided to leave the bank. The Wells Fargo teller then called the police who arrested the man a few minutes later while he was waiting in line back at the Bank of America.

COLORADO, USA—A man walked into a corner store in Colorado Springs with a gun and demanded all of the cash from the cash register. After the cashier had put the cash in a bag, the robber saw a pack of cigarettes that he wanted behind the counter on the shelf. He told the cashier to put it in the bag along with the cash. The cashier refused, saying that the man wasn't over twenty-one.

The robber insisted that he was in fact older than twenty-one, but the cashier stood his ground and refused to give it to him unless he showed official identification stating his age. The robber took his driver's license out of his wallet and gave it to the cashier. After a couple of minutes, the clerk agreed that the man was indeed over twenty-one and put the pack of cigarettes in the bag.

As the robber ran from the store, the cashier immediately called the police and gave the name and address he had seen on the license. The police arrested the robber two hours later while he was sitting in his living room smoking a cigarette.

	Story 1	Story 2
What did the robber do wrong?	He made mistakes on his stick-up note.	He showed the cashier his driver's license
What would be a good name for the story?	It Pays To Be Able To Read And Write	Old Enough But Not Smart Enough
Do you feel sorry for these criminals? Why?	No. He should not have tried to rob the bank.	No. He should not have tried to rob the store

Reorder the sentences to create the story of a silly burglary. Then answer the question.

6

He was wearing a jacket that belonged to the man of the house, and his pockets were full of jewelry and candies that he had taken.

7

Outside the house, a bag was found with more items that had been stolen from the house.

8

When the police came they found the burglar asleep on the couch.

3

When he was interviewed by the police, he claimed that he had bought the candies but eventually admitted to having taken them from the house.

1

At the time the burglar had just been released from a two-year prison sentence for burglary.

2

The owners of the house had locked all doors and windows before going to sleep the night before.

5

But when they woke up early the next morning, they heard noises coming from the living room.

4

Instead of checking the living room, they tiptoed into the kitchen and called the police.

9

On his way to the patrol car, the burglar apologized to the owners for falling asleep on their couch.

10

He explained that he had been playing basketball all day and had got very tired!

What would you have done if you had found a burglar asleep in your living room?
