(Computer)

The computer is a double-edge weapon. So some people are with and others are against it. According to people who support, they see that we live at the age of the computer as it breaks through every field in our life, for example medical, educational, engineering, and commercial fields. In addition to many other fields everywhere. These people also see that the computer is far more efficient than human beings. It has much better and can store huge amounts of information and it can do calculations in no time. The computer has a great characteristics as it doesn't suffer from lack of sleep, so it never feels tired and works efficiently all the time. One of the most important parts of the computer is the internet which is used for fun, paying bills, shopping, paying salaries, reserving seats on planes, learning and having courses in different fields. In addition to telling tomorrow's weather and many other jobs can do them accurately and quickly.

Other people who don't support the computer see that it is not important to possess a computer at all neither in their homes, nor in their offices. They prefer to depend on simple machines for communications such as calculator, fax, typewriter, telephone,....etc. they think with them everything is done in a relax manner because they are easier and simpler than the computer. As well as they avoid us taking the risk of using computers. These people also refuse to become part of the new internet world as it is a matter of wasting and gaining bad habits. They see that they see that they will never think of buying even if it becomes able to think, able to act on its own, or accept the responsibility for all mistakes it makes.
