

I'm the master mind arrest me please

..... Elaine Marquis is an old man of medium stature and very rich, but his greed for money could not be suppressed. One day, Elaine came up with the idea of assassinating the king so that his son would become emperor. Elaine planned a lot and trained the assassins for three months, waiting for the promised day, the day of the great hunting competition. He saw the right day to assassinate the king.

..... When the promised day came, Elaine gave the assassins poison-covered daggers to wish them success. The king announced that the contest would now begin, as everyone set out on their horses toward the forest to hunt as many animals as possible, and the king also set out to hunt.

..... Beginning of the competition, Elaine began to implement his plan, as the assassins spread in the forest in search of the king. When they found him, they began to attack the king, what Elaine does not know about the king he is king is really brave and the master of swords, the king's motto is "The king must be free from defects." When Elaine's assassination plan for the king failed, he ordered the withdrawal of all the killers from the forest, but the king managed to take one of the daggers from the assassins.

..... When he conducted an investigation and trial for the assassins, Elaine denied everything, but the king discovered that he is the mastermind, because it was foolish to engrave his family's crest on the daggers he gave them to assassinate the king. It was as if he was saying I was the owner of the plan arrest me please .

Socializing Online and In Person

.....In some ways socializing on the Internet is similar to socializing in person, but there are a few differences between them.

..... Actually socializing in person has many features ,such as, you can see your friend facial expressions , emotions and body language. Also , you can understand him better , and its good for mental heath. Moreover, Its better to build crucial social skills., it is important for the quality of one's mental health.

.....Socializing in the Internet is easier to discuss anything you want. It doesn't need any preparation for talking in any subject. So, you just need to grab your phone and communicate with any person regardless time and place.

At the end, both types has its pros and cones and you can choose which one is better for you.
