

Doll fashion designer

Despite the desire of my family to have a decent job that brings honor to the and my love for dolls is what led me to 'family, I have always had a different dream my current job, which is as a doll fashion designer. You may guess that it is strange and a waste of time the first time you hear about it, but it is a whole different world for those who loved dolls in their childhood

To become a doll fashion designer, you must have incredible and creative taste in fashion. You must become familiar with all fashion trends and fashion events that take place around the world, such as in Paris and New York

The fashion designer of the dolls chooses the fabrics, draws a primitive sketch of the idea, and buys various accessories that complement the outfits, such as lace and drips. They attend courses on design, color coordination, and photography, and follow up on all that is new to keep up with the development of fashion

I love my job, it's like you're playing the same games you did in the past but you get better. I am ambitious, creative, interested in dolls, and hardworking. I can manage things if something unexpected happens. Finally, I think this job is rare and beautiful. Only rare and creative people can handle it, and these are people whom I will fight with to become the one who brings into the world the most beautiful images in fashion

Dear Huda,

I am writing this complaint about activities that are harmful to the environment and the negligence of the council in failing to take measures to make our neighborhoods cleaner

Garbage is thrown on the streets in abundance due to the lack of trash cans. Trees are cut down a lot

the neighborhood is dirty and not clean, which has led to a large number of insects that transmit the infection to our diseases, which may have caused many diseases

I suggest to the council that it make its priority to clean our neighborhood of all the garbage scattered on the roads and put it in places designated for it so that the municipality can collect it and throw it in the places designated for garbage outside the city, and plant more trees to make the air clean and rich in oxygen

I hope you make this neighborhood more beautiful and green, with best wishes to you

My Grandmother's House"

The home that means the most to me is my grandmother's 'house'. Each time I go there, I feel a sense of comfort and warmth. Now that I'm in college, I don't get to spend much time there. But whenever I miss it, I just imagine it.

When you first enter my grandmother's house, you will find a garden filled with the scent of roses, and the sound of children playing and fighting fills the place. They will make you thrill with their strange games. When you pass through the middle door, you will see a spacious hall with old sofas, and in the middle of it there is Arabic coffee on the top of the old table, and adults gather around it drinking coffee and talking about the clear weather and having nostalgic conversations.

Last but not least, we all feel the feeling of warmth and comfort in our grandmother's house and when we are about to leave; Because as usual, the holidays are over, we feel uncomfortable and do not want to leave, and when we have already left, we look forward to the day when we will return to her home, to feel her tenderness, and to taste her delicious food that is unparalleled and unforgettable.
