Imad and Jasem are visiting London for two days. When they arrive at Heathrow airport, they're going to take the London Underground train (1) towards/to the center of town. The train travels above ground as it moves (2) away from the airport, but when it gets near the city, it travels (3) through underground tunnels. They're going to get off at Green Park Station, near the hotel. After they check (4) into the hotel, they'll probably rest and have dinner. The next day, they're taking a tour (5) around the city on a double-decker bus. The tour stops at Big Ben and Buckingham Palace, and includes a short cruise (6) along the Thames River. On their last day, they want to walk (7) across Millennium Bridge and visit the Tate Modern. In the evening, they're going to check (8) out of the hotel and take the Underground back (9) to the airport.
