Intro

1 Listen and Discuss

A. What do you think?

What is a slouch detector?

Do animals laugh?

What are super foods?

How old is cooking?

Which creatures are older than dinosaurs?

B. Read the texts and find out.

Have you noticed how often people, who spend a long time sitting at a desk, complain about back pain? When we've been sitting for a long time we are not conscious of our posture. Slouching affects the position of our neck and spine and causes back pains or even headaches. A small gadget that operates as a "slouch detector" comes to the rescue! The gadget monitors your neck and spinal position and buzzes, when the position is less than ideal! All you need to do is clip the gadget onto your shirt. However, you need to remember not to take any notice when the gadget buzzes for the wrong reason; for example when you lean over to answer the phone or get something from a drawer! Do you think the slouch detector is worth buying? Would you use it?

An Australian biogeneticist and his team began developing a vitamin-A-enriched banana to combat the destructive effects of vitamin A deficiency in sub-Saharan Africa. The banana was chosen as it made up a lot of the children's diet in the area, where about a third of the children under the age of 5 are at risk of going blind due to vitamin A deficiency. Provided that this type of "super banana" can actually be cultivated locally, and consumed by a substantial number of people, this type of food re-engineering might be extended to a wider range of products around the world. What do you think? Is intervening and reengineering crops a good idea?

Evidence has led scientists to suggest that early humans cooked their first hot meals more than 1.9 m years ago. The invention of cooking was a crucial factor in human evolution as it allowed our ancestors to expand their diet and to obtain more calories and nutrients from their food. Cooking softened food and made endless chewing redundant. This, according to scientists, resulted in the disappearance of large teeth which were replaced by smaller ones. It also reduced feeding times considerably and allowed early humans to develop different skills. According to Harvard evolutionary biologist, Richard Wrentham, controlling and using fire to cook was instrumental to the development of modern man. What do you think?

Hagfish, according to fossil records, have existed for over 300 million years. They are often called slime eels because of the slimy substance they produce, with the purpose of damaging the gills of predatory fish. As a result, hagfish have no natural enemies. The Coelacanth is the most famous “living fossil”. It was supposed to have become extinct in the Cretaceous period, along with the dinosaurs, until a live specimen was caught in South Africa in the late 1930s. Since then, more coelacanths have been seen and photographed. A second coelacanth species was found in Indonesia in 1999. Coelacanths can be up to 2 meters long and feed on smaller fish, in deep, dark waters. Did you know? Have you heard of other prehistoric animals that are still alive?

Research findings support the belief that a number of animals laugh when tickled! Scientists believe that nonhuman primates not only laugh but also have a sense of humor. Koko was a famous gorilla in California who learned more than two thousand words and one thousand American Sign Language signs, and demonstrated the ability to use different meanings of the same word. When asked about things she thought were hard, she signed, “rock” and “work”! She also tied her trainer’s shoelaces together before signing “chase” and turning to walk away! What do you think?

2 Pair Work

Discuss the points raised at the end of each text. Express your ideas and agree or disagree. Use language you know and phrases from the box.

Expressing personal views/Making objective comments

I’m not sure I’d feel comfortable using a gadget that makes so much noise in public...

I don’t think I would, but I am sure many people would.

It sounds like a good idea, but there should be some restrictions ...

A lot of people will object to it, although it appears to solve ...

I’d have to do some research but I’m sure there are more ...

It’s hard to believe but one has to accept that ...

3 Conversation

- Presenter: We're at the edge of the desert, waiting for the falcon hunters to arrive. And here they come... I thought their car was white... This must be them. They must have been on the road longer than expected ... Welcome back. It's great to see you again Mr. Ali.
- Mr. Ali: Thank you. Good to see you too! I wasn't sure you'd be here.
- Presenter: Of course I'm here. I can't wait to hear about your exploits. Have you had a successful hunt?
- Mr. Ali: Have we, indeed! We have been more fortunate than we could have ever expected. This has been the best trip ever! I wish we could have gone on for another two weeks!
- Presenter: But you must be exhausted! And you must have been in the sun a lot...
- Mr. Ali: You can tell, can't you? Oh, well, we must be looking the part. What can you expect after weeks of camping in the desert, but that's the way we like it!
- Presenter: And, now? What's next?
- Mr. Ali: Now, we are going to see our clients. My falcons are spoken for, so I won't have to look around for buyers. This is also important in our business...having good clients and keeping them happy! And of course, we're going to have our truck cleaned and serviced before we do anything else!
- Presenter: Do you think of the financial gain while you're hunting?
- Mr. Ali: No, not really. I only think of the hunt. You can't catch falcons if all you think about is how you are going to sell them. Falcons deserve respect and admiration! I often feel we have the best of both worlds; making a decent living while doing something we genuinely enjoy. There can't be too many people who can claim that!
- Presenter: You're quite right! I wish you continuing success in your endeavor and hope to catch up with you next year.
- Mr. Ali: You're very welcome. It's really good to have the opportunity to talk about our trade and know that more people will hear about it.

1 Listen and Discuss

1. What do you think is the difference between a house and a home?
2. What are the most important things in your home?
3. Describe both the interior and exterior of your dream home.

1 What is home? A roof to keep out the rain? Four walls to keep out the wind? Floors to keep out the cold? Yes, but home is more than that. It is the laugh of a baby, the verse of a mother, the strength of a father, warmth of loving hearts, lights from happy eyes, kindness, loyalty, comradeship. Home is the first school . . . for young ones, where they learn what is right, what is good, and what is kind, where they go for comfort when they are hurt or sick; where joy is shared and sorrow eased; where fathers and mothers are respected and loved, where children are wanted; where the simplest food is good enough for kings because it is earned; where money is not as important as loving-kindness; where even the tea kettle whistles from happiness. That is home!

— Ernestine Schumann-Heink

2 No one realizes how beautiful it is to travel until he comes home and rests his head on his old, familiar pillow.
— Lin Yutang

3 Bricks and mortar make a house, but the laughter of children makes a home.
— Irish Proverb

4 The best way to keep children home is to make the home atmosphere pleasant—and let the air out of the tires.
— Dorothy Parker

5 A small house can lodge a hundred friends.
— Egyptian proverb

6 Home is where the heart is.
— English proverb

7 There isn't enough furniture in the world to make a house without love feel like a home.
— Unknown

8 A house is a home when it shelters the body and comforts
the soul.
— Phillip Moffitt

9 A house that does not have one worn, comfy chair in it is soulless.
— May Sarton

10 A small, old house filled with love is better than a large,
new house with none.
— Unknown

3 Grammar

Adjective Order

When you use more than one adjective before a noun, the adjectives go in a certain order. The order is determined by category. Adjectives usually follow this order:

Opinion	Size/Shape	Age	Color	Nationality	Material
expensive	large	young	red	Saudi Arabian	glass difficult	round	ancient	turquoise	British	wooden

The beautiful, old, stone house has been put up for sale.

I have two large, brown sofas in my living room.

Note: Usually, only one to three adjectives are used to modify a noun at a time.

Too and Enough

Too can be placed before adjectives and adverbs.

She can't reach the shelf. She's too short.

You're talking too loudly. I can't hear the news.

Enough can be placed after adjectives and adverbs.

She can reach the shelf. She's tall enough.

You're talking loudly enough. Everyone can hear you.

Enough can be placed before nouns.

They should buy their own home. They have enough money.

A phrase with too or enough can be followed by an infinitive phrase.

You're too sick to leave the house today.

You're not well enough to go to work today.

I have enough days off to go on a trip.

A. Rewrite each sentence, putting the adjectives in the correct order. Add commas where necessary.

There is a (round / small) table in the kitchen.
There is a small, round table in the kitchen.

- Our new apartment is in a (brick / small) building.
- The apartment has a (old / Egyptian / wonderful) rug.
- There are (new / enormous) windows.
- Unfortunately, there are (ugly / velvet / brown) curtains in the living room.
- But there are (lovely / silk / yellow) curtains in the bedroom.
- The apartment has a (formal / large) dining room.
- It has (wood / beautiful / old) floors.
- The (old-fashioned / orange / small) bathroom needs to be remodeled.
- The bedroom is painted a (comforting / light blue) color.
- A (American / nice / large) family lives next door.

B. Use the words to write one complaint using too and one complaint using enough.

💡 the elevator moves / slowly / quickly The elevator moves too slowly. It doesn't move quickly enough.

1. the lobby / dirty / clean
2. walls / thin / thick
3. the neighbors / inconsiderate / considerate
4. the neighbors talk / loudly / softly
5. the painter painted / carelessly / carefully
6. the bed / soft / firm
7. the atmosphere / unfriendly / friendly
8. the bus stop / far / close
9. the furniture / outdated / modern
10. the mortar / wet / dry

C. Complete each sentence with an infinitive.

💡 I'm not tall enough to be a basketball player.

1. I'm tall enough _____.
2. I'm not tall enough _____.
3. I'm too young _____.
4. I'm old enough _____.
5. I don't have enough money _____.
6. I speak enough English _____.

D. Look at the picture. Describe the houses using multiple adjectives.
Then give your opinion of the houses using too and enough.

4 Conversation

- Ahmed: Where are you going to live when you start college in the fall?
- Hameed: I don't want to live on campus. There's too much noise when you're trying to study, and there aren't enough places to go when you want to socialize. So, I'm going to get an apartment off campus.
- Ahmed: Cool! What kind of apartment do you have in mind?
- Hameed: Well, I'm hoping to find a large, modern place with an extra bedroom for visitors. It has to have parking. And, of course, it has to have a washer and dryer.
- Ahmed: Hold on! Do you have enough money for an apartment like that?
- Hameed: Why? Do you think it would be very expensive?
- Ahmed: You are clearly out of touch with rental prices! You need a reality check. An apartment like that will cost an arm and a leg.
- Hameed: Like how much?
- Ahmed: We're talking megabucks—maybe fifteen grand a month.
- Hameed: Fifteen thousand riyals? I had no idea. I thought it would be a lot less than that.
- Ahmed: Only if you want to live in a tiny apartment way outside of the city.
- Hameed: Well, maybe I shouldn't be in such a rush to move out. I could live at home with my parents just for the first year...

Real Talk

- Cool! = Great!
- Hold on! = Stop for a moment!
- out of touch = don't have a realistic idea
- reality check = an assessment of how realistic something is
- an arm and a leg = a large amount of money
- megabucks = a large amount of money
- grand = thousand

About the Conversation

1. What kind of apartment is Hameed looking for?
2. Why does Ahmed tell Hameed that he needs a reality check?
3. What decision does Hameed make at the end of the conversation?

8 Reading

Before Reading

Work in pairs. Which do you think are the main strengths of the people and the economy of Saudi Arabia? Read the passage and underline all the positive features about people and the economy.

www.ien.edu.sa

The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia is blessed with a significant wealth of natural resources, an Islamic, family oriented society and extraordinary opportunities for economic growth. The nation's Islamic faith, national identity, culture and heritage make it special and provide limitless potential for development.

The nation is honored to welcome and serve an increasing number of pilgrims and visitors, from across the globe, every year. The expansion of the Two Holy Mosques and the upgrading of services and facilities had helped to cater for 15 million visitors from its development until 2020. These improvements will continue to ensure that all pilgrims are well looked after when they visit.

The People

Saudi Arabia's 2030 vision is largely based on the ambition, determination and talents of its people and their Islamic values. It is important, therefore, for the members of the Saudi society to be supported by social, health care and educational systems in order to cultivate and nurture its children in the best way possible to prepare them for a promising future.

Cultural and entertainment projects will include the establishment of libraries, galleries, museums and the organization of different types of events and activities. Housing and community development projects will provide a pleasant, secure and sustainable environment for the citizens of the Kingdom.

An updated educational system will provide high quality learning and develop available talent and potential. Graduates will have the knowledge and skills required by the job market and access to many opportunities for professional development.

The Economy

The Kingdom's economy has great growth potential. A diversified and renewed business environment will offer employment opportunities to all citizens and attract new investors. Improved and updated services and facilities will attract small and large companies, interested in participating actively in a dynamic economy. Telecommunications and information technology will be updated and made available in urban and rural areas.

The Kingdom's strategic position that connects the waterways of three continents, Europe, Africa and Asia, will make it a leading trading and transportation port for cargo from different countries across the globe. Streamlined government services will facilitate the introduction of new business sectors and partners and support growth. Investment opportunities will be increased through privatization of state owned assets and agencies.

The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia will be a leading business hub with limitless opportunities for the development of new talent and creative enterprises.

* Adapted from the text of the Vision Programs at <https://vision2030.gov.sa/en> and from the text that was drafted by the Council of Economic and Development Affairs as instructed by the Custodian of the Two Holy Mosques, King Salman.

After Reading

1. What are the main strengths of the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia?
2. What kind of support is necessary for the Kingdom's society to prepare for 2030?
3. What types of events and activities will be available for citizens?
4. How will the educational system differ compared to the past?
5. In what way will the Kingdom's geographical position affect its role in international trade?
6. Which factors will affect investment opportunities?

9 Speaking

1. Work in pairs. Think about your family or an imaginary family in your city/town in 2030.
2. Make notes in the chart about:
 - members of the family (age, jobs, plans)
 - the area and the house they live in
 - technology and telecommunications
 - travel and entertainment activities
 - culture and education
3. Use your notes to compare ideas in groups or in class.

10 Writing

A. Look at the photos. Where do you think these houses are? What are they made of?

1. Read the text and find out.
 - What is adobe?
 - What is special about the house?
 - Are the back and front of the house similar? How do you know?
 - What is part of the floor made of? Why?
2. Read the text again, find out, and highlight.
 - Which rooms does the writer mention?
 - What can the writer see, smell, and feel in the house?
3. Would you want to live in a house with a glass floor? Why? Why not?

A home over the canyon

When people talk about unusual homes, I think of our friends' dream home in New Mexico, on which they spent all their savings building it.

On the outside, the house looks like most adobe homes in the area. Adobe is made from sand, clay, water, and organic material that are shaped into bricks and left to dry in the sun. Our friends' house is a beautifully-designed, large adobe home with a drive and a large cactus tree near the entrance. It has soft lines, and is less angular than conventional urban homes.

When you go through the door, you find yourself in a beautiful, spacious room with large windows and sunlight streaming in. Large windows are unusual for adobe homes. But this is no ordinary home. Part of the house juts out of the adobe shell that can be seen from the street and stretches to the end of a cliff. You walk past a kitchen fitted with a cast-iron stove and hand-made wooden cabinets that give off the most enticing smells of cumin and chilies and herbs. It is so real; you can almost taste the food.

The spacious room that you step into when you enter the house stretches in all directions. You walk towards the sitting area. When you get closer, you need to brace yourself as the most spectacular view imaginable unfolds before your eyes. All of a sudden, you are no longer stepping on wood, the floor is hard, and your footsteps make a strange resounding sound. You look down and wonder whether you have been transported in space and time; you are looking into the gaping canyon. You think you are falling into it; you can almost feel the air whooshing past.

Part of the floor is made of thick custom-designed glass. You might like it or hate it, but however you feel you have to admit it is unique. This is the way I feel about this house and the day I spent there. It was a unique, unforgettable experience even if I wouldn't choose to live with a glass floor over a canyon for the rest of my life. Would you?

My Grandparents' House

The home that means the most to me is my grandparents' house. Each time I go there, I feel a sense of comfort and warmth. Now that I'm in college, I don't get to spend much time there. But whenever I miss it, I just imagine it. When you first walk into my grandparents' house...

Writing Corner

When you write a descriptive essay:

- brainstorm about the topic and write down as many notes as you can about your memories and impressions of the house/place.
- make an outline of your essay and decide what each paragraph/section is going to focus on.
- include factual information, e.g. size, number of rooms, etc. as well as feelings/impressions.
- visualize the place you want to write about so you can help your reader visualize it too.
- use different senses, i.e. sight, feelings, smell, sound, and taste to make it more vivid.
- remember that smell is usually the most vivid and best retained memory.
- think of the first and last thing(s) you see, hear, feel, or smell (or almost taste) when you are there.

Words Connected with Asking for, Understanding and Giving Directions

Some words and phrases we commonly use when asking for and giving directions are:

Asking For Directions	Giving Directions
Excuse me, I'm looking for ...	Turn left/right.
Could you tell me where ...is?	Take a left/right.
Can you tell me how to get there?	Take the first/second left ...
Am I headed in the right direction for ...?	Go straight for a few miles.
	Keep going until you see ...
	When you get to ... you'll see ...
	If you see ... you've gone too far.

Understanding Directions and Asking Someone to Repeat Something

Asking Someone to Repeat Something
Can/Could you repeat that, please?
Could/Would you say that again?
What did you say about ...?
Excuse me, but I didn't catch the last part/the part about...
I'm sorry. I didn't catch that.
Would you mind repeating that?

A. Fahd and Faisal are driving to a friend's home. Read the conversation. Complete the gaps with a word or phrase from the charts above.

- Fahd: I don't know why Google Maps can't find Al Nadwa Street. I think we'd better stop and ask for directions. There's a gas station. Let's pull over and ask someone.
- Faisal: Oh, all right.
- Attendant: You look lost.
- Fahd: You can say that again. (1.) We're looking for Al Nadwa Street.
- Attendant: I know this town like the back of my hand, and I can tell you that there's no street by that name. Do you mean Al Safarat Road?
- Faisal: Oh, yeah! That must be it. I just got the street name wrong.
- Fahd: (2.) _____?
- Attendant: It's not far. You need to (3.) _____ out of here. Then (4.) _____ for a couple of miles. (5.) Keep going _____ an ice cream shop. If you see the Town Hall, (6.) _____. (7.) _____ after the ice cream shop and you'll be on Al Safarat Road.
- Faisal & Fahd: Thanks!

B. Role-play with a partner. Imagine you are standing outside your school and it is very crowded and noisy. Ask your partner how to get to his or her home (or some other destination) from school. Your partner will give you directions. Ask your partner to repeat something. Use phrases from the charts above.

Expressing Requests, Offers, Promises, Warnings, and Spontaneous Decisions

Use can and will for requests. Use will for offers and promises.

Can you tell me where you live?

Sure. I'll draw you a map.

Will you drive me home?

Sorry, I can't. I have an appointment.

Use will for spontaneous decisions.

Now the children have left for college, this house is too big for us.

I know! We'll downsize into an apartment.

The Future with Dependent Time Clauses: When, Before, After, While, Until

We can talk about a future event using a time clause with when, before, after, while, and until.

A present tense verb form (not a future form) is used in the time clause, and will is used in the main clause.

Don't worry. I'll take care of the children until you get back.

When he finishes work, he'll go straight home.

I'll help him with his homework while you wash the dishes.

As soon as it stops raining, we'll leave.

Dad will call mom at home before we set off on our return journey.

C. Put the verbs in parentheses in either the future tense (will) or the present tense.

💡 I 'll call (call) you as soon as I get (get) home.

1. The company _____ (manufacture) the parts when they _____ (receive) the order.

2. He _____ (travel) the world before he _____ (get) married and settles down.

3. I _____ (run) to the store before it _____ (start) raining.

4. When you _____ (drive) down the road, you _____ (see) a large, red building.

5. _____ you continue _____ (argue) with me until I _____ (change) my mind?

D. Read the conversation and write an appropriate ending using will. Compare with a partner.

Omar: Sultan, will you do me a favor?

Sultan: Sure. What do you want me to do?

Omar: If Fahd calls, tell him I'm not home. He always asks me to help him with the homework.

Sultan: Ok. No problem.

Fahd: Hello. This is Fahd. Can I speak to Omar?

Sultan: Hi Fahd. My brother's not here. Did you try his cell phone?

Fahd: Yes. I did. But there is no answer.

Sultan: Can I take a message?

Fahd: Yes. Please tell him I have free tickets for the football game tonight.

Sultan: _____

1 Listen and Discuss

Make a list of what you already know about the Olympic Games. Then read the passage and underline the facts about the Games that are new to you.

Fascinating Olympic Facts

The ancient Olympic Games began in Greece in 776 B.C.E. and were held every four years until 393 C.E. It wasn't until about 1,500 years later, in the mid-1800s, that the games were revived in Greece. But the Olympics didn't become the event we know today until 1896, when a French historian named Pierre de Coubertin had the idea of making the games international, and founded the International Olympic Committee.

Medals weren't always a part of the Olympics. Giving medals to winners is a practice that began in 1896, and between 1896 and 1904, the top prize was a silver medal.

The youngest person that has ever competed in the Olympics was Dimitrios Loundras, a ten-year-old gymnast on the 1896 Greek gymnastics team.

Lighting the Olympic torch does not involve a match. It is lit using only the light of the sun and a special mirror.

At various times, the Olympics have included such unusual events as a swimming obstacle race, a tug of war, and live pigeon shooting.

The gold medal is not made of gold! It's actually 92.5 percent silver with a covering of six grams of gold.

The marathon is an event named after the run of a Greek soldier, Pheidippides. In 490 B.C.E., Pheidippides ran from Marathon to Athens (about 26 miles, or 42 kilometers) to deliver news about the Greeks' success in a battle. Running through the mountains and rocky land was extremely difficult. After Pheidippides arrived in Athens and delivered his news, he fell down and died. The first modern Olympics in 1896 included a race of 26 miles (42 kilometers), called a marathon, to commemorate Pheidippides' run.

Because the Greeks originated the Olympics, the Greek team always leads the procession of athletes during the opening ceremony of the Olympic Games. They are followed by the other teams in alphabetical order. The hosting country goes last.

Dropping sports from the Olympics is not uncommon. In fact, many popular sports have been dropped through the years, including rugby, golf, baseball, and softball. Adding a new event can only happen if another one is dropped.

Quick Check ✓

Gerunds as Subjects

A gerund or a gerund phrase can be the subject of a sentence.

Swimming uses more muscles of the body than almost any other form of exercise.

Watching sports isn't nearly as fun as playing them.

Make a gerund or gerund phrase negative by putting not before it.

Not exercising is a sure way to gain weight.

Not warming up before you exercise can lead to injuries.

Note that a gerund subject takes a singular verb.

Getting in shape takes time and effort.

Superlative + Present Perfect

The present perfect can be used after a superlative.

This is the most exciting sporting event I've been to in a long time.

Who is the best football player you've ever seen?

A. Rewrite each sentence with a gerund or gerund phrase as the subject.

 It is foolish to ride a motorcycle without a helmet.

Riding a motorcycle without a helmet is foolish.

1. It is easier to lose weight when you're physically active.

_____ is easier when you're physically active.

2. The thing that stops many people from being physically active is not having enough time.

_____ stops many people from being physically active.

8 Reading

Before Reading

Which winter sports have you watched, heard/read about, or participated in? Where are winter sports more popular? Why?

A country born on skis

Norway, a small country of 5.5 million inhabitants, has won more Winter Games medals than any other nation. It became the first country to win 100 Olympic gold medals, and reached the 300-medal milestone in the Winter Games of 2010.

Norwegians go cross-country skiing , ski-jumping , or downhill skiing on weekends, on holidays, and after work. When the snow starts melting in spring, they move it up to the mountains. And if there is no access to snow, they skate on ice. 2,500 lit tracks all over the country make it possible for people to ski in winter, although it gets dark early.

Norwegians have enjoyed skiing for thousands of years. A rock carving in Nordland County in the north provides evidence that the use of skis dates back to the Stone Age. Until about a century ago, skis were the only means of transport in winter and essential for hunting.

Skiing did not become a mass sport until the mid-1880s when the first competitions were arranged. Sondre Norheim, who is considered the father of modern skiing, was the originator of the Telemark skis, which are narrower in the middle than at the front and back and have stiff heel bindings. The shape made turning easier, and the heel binding allowed skiers to jump from rooftops or over rocks without losing their skis.

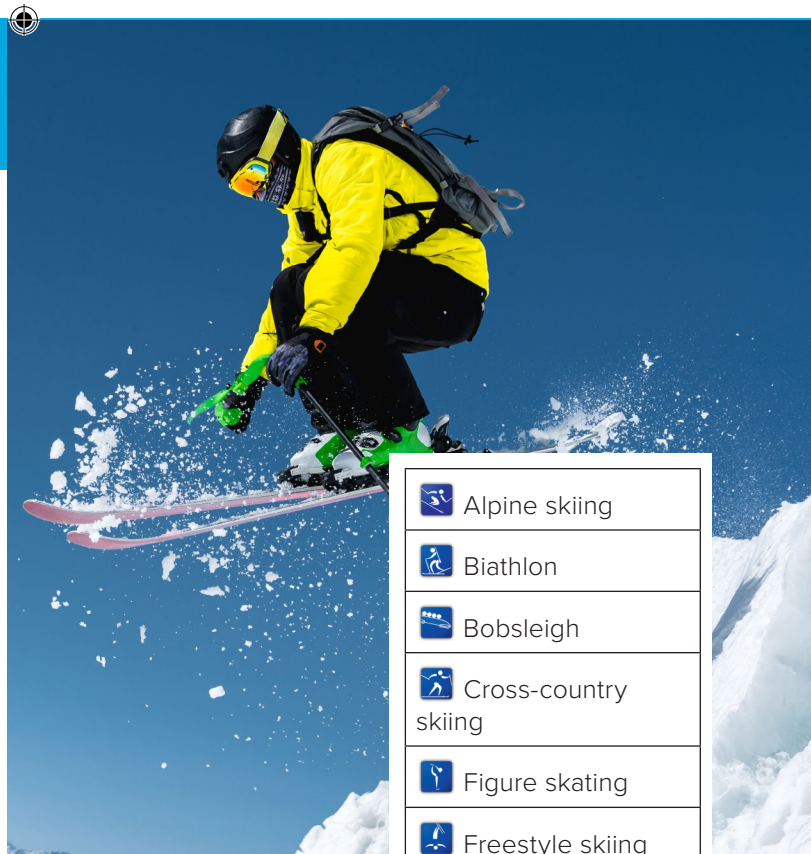

Polar explorers made skis known internationally and demonstrated their unique merits on terrain that could not be crossed any other way. Roald Amundsen was the first man to reach the South Pole in 1911, on skis. Fridtjof Nansen crossed the Greenland interior on skis in 1880. Other explorers have followed the routes used by these two famous explorers and skied to both the North and South Poles.

Annual cross-country events are organized throughout Norway, attracting a great number of participants. Such events are not restricted to athletes, but include “keep fit” categories that allow more people to participate. Enjoying the exercise and nature is as important as achieving the fastest time and winning prizes in these events.

Biathlon  was first included in the Winter Olympic program in 1960. It is a cross-country skiing race interspersed with shooting contests. Norwegians are very strong cross-country skiers and have won most of the cross-country skiing medals in the Winter Olympics over the years.

Alpine skiing  has also gained a lot of followers, as has freestyle , which is a relatively newer sport. Norwegians are among the world's best in freestyle.

	Alpine skiing
	Biathlon
	Bobsleigh
	Cross-country skiing
	Figure skating
	Freestyle skiing
	Ice hockey
	Luge
	Nordic combined
	Short track
	Ski jumping
	Speed skating

Speed skating  used to be a large spectator and participation sport on a par with cross-country skiing. Cross-country skiing, ski jumping, and Alpine skiing seem to have taken over and overshadowed speed skating, although Norwegian speed skaters are among the best in the world.

In winter in Norway, every sheet of ice is covered with children playing hockey  or skating. Indoor rinks are also used for skating and ice hockey. While other Scandinavians huddle around fireplaces, Norwegians bundle up and go out skiing. This could explain the reason why they have won such an astounding number of medals in the Winter Olympics.

After Reading

Answer true or false.

- _____ Norwegians go cross-country skiing in their free time.
- _____ The use of skis dates back to about a century ago.
- _____ Telemark skis are narrower in the middle and have soft heel bindings.
- _____ Amundsen was the first man to reach the South Pole in 1911.
- _____ Annual cross-country events are restricted to “keep fit” categories.
- _____ Speed skating used to be very popular.
- _____ Norwegians are the best in Alpine skiing.
- _____ Children skate and play hockey on sheets of ice.

1. _____
2. defending zone
3. _____
4. _____
5. _____
6. _____

(1) _____
Ice hockey is played on a rink that is 200 feet (61 meters) long and 85 feet (26 meters) wide with painted lines to indicate various zones. The area behind the blue line of a team's side is called its defending zone. The area behind the opponent's blue line is the attacking zone, and the area between the two blue lines is the neutral zone. There are two sets of goal posts at either end of the rink with a net attached behind them. The red line between the two posts is the goal line. The area in front of the goal is called the crease.

(2) _____
Each team has three kinds of players: three forwards (the center and two wingers), two defensemen, and a goaltender.

(3) _____
The objective of the game is to score goals by shooting the puck, a hard rubber disk, into the opponent's net. The players control the puck with a long stick curved at one end. They also wear a lot of padding and helmets to avoid getting hurt.

(4) _____
Players are not allowed to use their hands in order to redirect the puck nor pass it to their teammates, unless they are in the defensive zone. They may redirect the puck with any other part of their bodies, but not kick it.

(5) _____
The boards surrounding the ice keep the puck in the rink and are used to "bodycheck" opponents, i.e. push them against the boards in order to stop their progress. Play can also be stopped if a goal is knocked out of position. It is then restarted with a face-off, i.e. two players face each other on the ice and try to gain control of the puck that an official drops to the ice.

(6) _____
If an offensive player interferes with a goaltender's defense he is given a penalty and sent to the penalty box for two to five minutes.

4. Check you have understood the instructions on how to play the game. Close your book and tell your partner.

- B. 1. Choose a sport or a recreational activity that you like doing.
2. Think about the sport or activity and make notes in the chart. Add more steps/stages if necessary.
3. Use your notes to write an email to your friend giving information about your sport or recreational activity.

Name of sport or recreational activity: _____
Where can you do this activity?
When can you do this activity? e.g., summer, winter, etc.
Do you need any special equipment to take part in this activity?
What do you have to do to prepare for this activity? What is involved in doing this activity? e.g., stages, rules etc.
Why do you like this activity?
Would you recommend this sport or activity to your friend? Why?

Hi Majid,

How's school? How's your family? I hope you are all well. You asked about fishing: Well, guess what? Last week I caught the biggest fish you've ever seen! Let me tell you how you can do it, too!

The first thing you need to do is prepare your line with bait ...

I'm attaching a photo of me fishing with my dad! We look good, huh? I'm really looking forward to seeing you again. Send me all your news soon.

Your friend,

Writing Corner

When you write an email to a friend giving news and instructions:

- greet and sign off the email in an informal manner, e.g., Hi/Hello/Dear ...
- write as if you are speaking to your friend directly.
- give your news e.g., school, a recent activity you have taken up.
- if the reader doesn't know the sport or activity, give details about what's involved and the stages and steps.
- hand over the first draft to someone else to read and comment on.
- edit and rewrite.

11 Form, Meaning and Function

Present Perfect Progressive versus Present Perfect Simple

Use the present perfect progressive tense to talk about an action that started in the past and has a connection with the present time. The action may or may not have finished.

Use the present perfect progressive to emphasize the results of the action.

Use the present perfect progressive to say how long something has been happening.

Use the present perfect simple to say how many things have been done.

Present Perfect Progressive

How long have you been learning to ski?
I have been learning how to ski for six months.

Present Perfect Simple

I have attended five cross-country skiing events.

Time Expressions: How long ...?

Use the present perfect progressive tense with for to indicate the duration of the action: for two months, for a year, for a long time.

Use the present perfect progressive with since to indicate when the action began: since yesterday, since last June, since 2010.

Use the present perfect progressive with all... and so on to talk about the duration of the action, which may or may not have finished: all day, all week, all month, all year, all my life.

Adverbs of Manner

Adverbs of manner express how something is done. They are normally formed by adding -ly to an adjective.

How did he explain?

He explained carefully.

Sometimes an adjective and adverb have the same form.

He's a fast runner. → He runs fast.

He's a hard worker. → He works hard.

The adverb form of good is well.

Can Ali dive?

Yes. He's a good diver. He dives really well.

Comparative Forms of Adjectives and Adverbs

The comparative form of most one syllable adjectives and adverbs is formed by adding -er:

slow—slower; fast—faster; hard—harder.

Some comparative forms of adjectives are irregular: good—better; bad—worse

The comparative form of most two or more syllable adjectives and adverbs is formed by adding more:

difficult—more difficult; carefully—more carefully.

Adjective Comparative

The youngest athlete was faster than all the others.

Football is more thrilling than basketball.

Adverb Comparative

The man climbed higher and higher up the mountain.

The earthquake got stronger and the walls shook more violently.

Than and As ... As

Use than to compare two people, animals, things, ideas or situations.

That athlete trains harder than all the other athletes.

Use as ... as to show two items are the same in some way.

Skiing is as dangerous as snowboarding.

Use not as ... as to show two items are not the same in some way.

The fold-up bicycle is not as bulky as a regular bicycle.

3 Laugh Out Loud

1 Listen and Discuss

1. What TV show or comedian makes you laugh the most? Why?
2. What is the funniest joke you know?
3. What do you think makes a joke funny?

A family of mice were being chased by a cat. The scared mice were cornered when the father mouse turned around and barked "Ruff! Ruff! Ruff!" The surprised cat ran away. When one of the young mice said, "Nice going, Dad," the father mouse replied, "You see son, it pays to be bilingual!"

A student with a parrot on his shoulder leaves a lecture theater. Another student follows him. He stops him and says, "I'm sorry to bother you, but I have to say, I was astonished by your parrot's remarkable reaction to the lecture on ancient history. He seemed frightened at the frightening parts, sad at the depressing parts, fascinated at the interesting parts, and amused at the funny parts. I could have sworn, I even heard it laugh. I have to say, I was amazed. Don't you find it surprising?" "Yes," he replies, "I was very surprised. He hated the class!"

A truck driver is driving a truckload of penguins to the zoo in the next town, when his truck breaks down. While he's working on the truck, another truck driver stops and asks if he needs help. The first truck driver says, "If I gave you $100, would you take these penguins to the zoo?" The second trucker agrees to do it. Hours later, the truck driver is still trying to fix his truck when the second truck driver drives past with all of the penguins still in his truck. The puzzled first truck driver says, "Didn't you take them to the zoo?" The second truck driver says, "Yes, we went to the zoo, and there was money left over. So now we're going to a restaurant."

A grasshopper, a snail, and a centipede are relaxing in the grasshopper's house, when they realize that they are getting hungry. They decide that one of them should go out for a pizza. The snail says, "I'd go, but I'm kind of slow." The grasshopper says, "I don't mind going, but my hopping will shake the pizza and mess it up." So they decide to send the centipede. The snail and grasshopper wait and wait. The longer they wait, the hungrier they get. Finally, when an hour passes and the centipede still hasn't returned, the irritated snail and grasshopper decide to go look for him. They get as far as the front door where they find the centipede sitting there putting on his shoes.

- Why shouldn't the snail and grasshopper have sent the centipede out for the pizza?

2 Pair Work

Think of a joke you know that involves two people. With your partner, write the joke as a role-play and perform it for the class.

3 Grammar

Past and Present Participial Adjectives

The past participle and the present participle forms of a verb can be used as adjectives.

Past participles generally end in -ed (but can also end in -d, -t, -en, or -n) and describe how someone feels.

The mice were frightened of the cat.

Present participles always end in -ing and describe what causes the feeling.

The cat was frightening.

Participial adjectives can appear after be or in front of nouns.

My grandfather's stories about his childhood are amusing.

My grandfather tells amusing stories about his childhood.

Get + Adjective; Get + Past Participle

Get before an adjective or past participle suggests that something is changing or starting to happen.

Get can be followed by an adjective.

The grasshopper and the snail got impatient waiting for the centipede.

It's almost time for me to give my presentation. I am getting nervous.

Get can also be followed by a past participle which functions as an adjective.

You should put on sunscreen. You're getting sunburned.

My mother gets worried if I'm not home by 10:00.

The...the Comparatives

The...the is used with two comparatives to say that the first thing has an effect on the second.

The longer the telephone call, the bigger the telephone bill.

The funnier the joke, the harder the audience laughs.

The more I get to know my classmates, the better I like them.

A. Complete the sentences with the present or past participle of the verb in parentheses.

- When Jack found out that he wasn't accepted to his first choice of university, he was _____. The news was _____. (disappoint)

Before Reading

1. What do you think each Hadith means? Discuss your thoughts in class.
2. Read the passage and underline important details about laughter.

Islam encourages smiling and moderate laughter.

For example, the following two Hadith indicate the virtue of smiling in Islam:

“Your smiling in the face of your brother is a charitable act.”
(Aladab Almufrad, 891)

“Don’t consider anything insignificant out of good things even if it is that you meet your brother with a cheerful face.”
(Sahih Muslim, 2626)

Laughter Really Is The Best Medicine

Are you feeling run-down? Stressed? Do you get sick easily? The solution to your problems may be surprisingly simple: Try laughing. Countless research studies have shown the amazing number of ways that laughter positively impacts both our mind and body.

Laughter has an immediate beneficial effect on our mood and sense of well-being. Generally speaking, the harder you laugh, the better you feel. But why is this? Research has found that laughter offers some of the same benefits as exercise. When you laugh, that laughter stretches, tones, and strengthens muscles in your face and body. It increases your heart rate and causes you to breathe faster, which increases oxygen levels in your body. According to William F. Fry, M.D., Associate Professor of Clinical Psychiatry at Stanford University, “Laughing 100–200 times per day is the cardiovascular equivalent of rowing for 10 minutes.”

One study even found that laughter can help people lose weight. Researchers discovered that laughing out loud for 10–15 minutes a day can burn up to 50 calories. However, this certainly doesn’t mean you should give up a visit to the gym for a hearty laugh. At the rate of 200 calories per hour, it would take over 17 hours of non-stop laughter to lose a single pound (450 grams)!

People who laugh often have other physical advantages as well. They tend to have lower blood pressure and lower stress levels. They tend to get sick less often because laughter has been shown to increase infection-fighting antibodies. Laughter has also been found to help fight disease and to help people recover from illness. This has led many hospitals to create programs designed to make patients laugh. For example, it is quite common to see a red-nosed clown joking with young patients in the pediatric ward. Hundreds of hospitals also provide patients with “humor carts,” loaded with humorous cartoons, DVDs, comic books, and funny props.

Laughter has also been found to make people alert, stimulate the brain, and enhance learning. It also helps people to be more productive, to communicate more effectively, to sleep more soundly, and to form friendships more easily. In the mid-1990s, a doctor from India was struck by these benefits and brainstormed a way to bring more laughter into his patients’ lives. The doctor, Madan Kataria, gathered a group of people together in a local park to practice laughing as part of a “laughter club.” During the club meetings, Kataria would prompt members to laugh in a variety of ways.

For example, he would tell them to greet one another with a laugh, or to laugh like a lion. Although Kataria discovered that fake laughter produces the same health benefits as genuine laughter, he was gratified to find that it usually didn't take long for fake laughter to turn into real laughter.

This idea of laughter clubs has been extremely successful. There are now more than 8,000 laughter clubs in 60 different countries. It seems laughter is indeed infectious! Now that you know the health benefits of laughter, think about ways you could bring more laughter into your life. Whether you go to comedy clubs, joke with a friend, or watch more comedies, your mind and body will soon be enjoying the many benefits of a good laugh.

After Reading

Answer true or false.

1. _____ Laughter increases oxygen levels in your body.
2. _____ People with lower stress levels tend to get sick more often.
3. _____ Clowns are a common sight in hospital emergency rooms.
4. _____ The first laughter club was started by an Indian doctor.
5. _____ Fake laughter does not produce the same health benefits as genuine laughter.
6. _____ There are about 800 laughter clubs in the world today.

10 Writing

A. What is a sitcom?

1. Read the text and find out about sitcoms.
2. Think of sitcoms you have watched. Do you enjoy watching them? Why? Why not?
3. Who are your favorite characters? Why?

A sitcom is a situation comedy without an ending. It consists of episodes, but the situation goes on. The television sitcom was born in the 1940s and 1950s. It had originally existed as a radio show that listeners would tune into every week to spend some time with familiar characters they grew to know and liked.

When television arrived in the late 1940s, shows were filmed in front of a live studio audience, with three cameras recording everything for later editing. In the 60s sitcoms combined fantasy with comedy and used a laugh track instead of a live studio audience. In the 70s social issues were included, but in the 80s there was a return to the original family concept, the most important success factor behind sitcoms.

Nowadays, shows are filmed with a single camera, on location or on studio sets, with no laugh track or live audience.

4. Read the excerpt of the sample script below and find out:

- Who the main characters are.
- What has happened.

ACT ONE Scene One, Int. Living Room — Morning (Day 1) (Bill, Kevin)

KEVIN RUNS INTO THE LIVING ROOM WEARING HIS TRACKSUIT AND NOTICES A LETTER ON THE TABLE NEAR THE DOOR. AS HE TRIES TO OPEN IT, BILL WALKS IN WITH A FUNNY LOOK ON HIS FACE, POINTING TO THE LETTER.

KEVIN (excited)

Look! I got it! I'm a university student!

BILL (at a loss attempting to stop him)

But, but...

KEVIN RUSHES OUT THE DOOR, HOLDING THE ENVELOPE AS BITS OF CONFETTI START FALLING OUT MARKING HIS TRAIL; BILL STANDS AT THE DOOR SHAKING HIS HEAD. HE IS HOLDING ANOTHER LETTER IN HIS HAND.

BILL

Ahhhh Kevin, you never stop. That letter...

It was an advertisement...

Scene Two, Ext. School Yard — Twenty Minutes Later (Kevin)

KEVIN IS RUNNING AROUND THE SCHOOL TRAILING CONFETTI...

- B. Scene Two: Kevin receives the following messages on his voicemail. Read the messages and say who has left the message and why. Discuss how Kevin will feel when he reads them.
1. Hi Kevin. This is Dad. Your brother has told us the wonderful news! Congratulations, son. We are very proud of you.
 2. Hi Kevin. This is your bro, Bob. Well done. Do you want my help with moving your things? Call me.
 3. Hello Kevin. This is Mr. Jackson from university admissions. Unfortunately, we don't have any record of an offer of a university place for you. Please could you call us at: 234-7684 ext. 43. Thank you.
- C. Scene Three: Bill has left a message for Kevin at home. Read the message and explain why Bill has left the message. How does Bill feel? In pairs, write the voicemail message Kevin leaves for Mr. Jackson explaining the situation.

Hi Kevin,

You ran out of the door so quickly that I didn't have a chance to explain. That letter was not from the university offering you a place. It was an advertisement! I'm really sorry I know how much you want to go to that college. Anyway, Mr. Jackson called and said they don't know who you are so you had better call and explain the situation. I'll be back at 6 p.m.

See you later.

Bill

- D. How will the episode end? Work with a partner and make notes. Write a short description of the final scene.

Notes about the final scene:

Episode 8, ACT ONE, Final scene

Writing Corner

When writing a sitcom:

- brainstorm ideas about funny scenes that you have experienced, heard about, or seen.
- identify what makes them funny.
- research and read scripts from sitcoms you know to get ideas.
- picture each scene and write a draft description.
- focus on the characters and list their characteristics (if possible draw them).
- outline the events in the episode.
- go back and edit, replace, or add to your material.
- give it to someone else to read before you finalize it.

11 Form, Meaning and Function

Expressing Wishes, Regret and Criticism

Verb: Wish

Use wish for things that happened in the past that you now regret.

in the past	I didn't see the TV comedian. I wish I had seen the TV comedian. Everyone thought he was so funny!
	I couldn't get the joke. I wish I had been able to get the joke. I need to improve my English.
	I switched off before the end of the TV show. I wish I hadn't switched off before the end of the TV show. The ending was supposed to be very good.

Use wish and if only for things you want to happen now or in the future but which you know probably won't happen.

in the present	I am not a big fan of his jokes.	I wish I found his jokes funny.
	I feel down today.	I wish I didn't feel down today. I wish I could cheer up.
	The comedian can't make people laugh.	The comedian wishes he could make people laugh.
in the future	He won't lend me his car.	I wish he would lend me his car.
	My brother will leave for college soon.	If only he would stay.

Expressing Criticism

Use wish or if only with would to express irritation or annoyance with a situation or the particular action of someone else.

I wish he wouldn't use his cell phone in class. I wish the children would stop interrupting.

Note: Use if only ... in the place of wish to express a wish, regret or criticism more emphatically: If only it would stop raining, I wouldn't feel so depressed!

A. Use the verb wish to complete the sentences. In some cases, more than one answer is possible.

💡 Your best friend is a wonderful person, but he/she talks too much.

I wish that my best friend didn't talk so much/wouldn't talk so much.

1. I feel down. I think the weather is getting to me. It is so cold and wet.

I wish _____.

2. He is stressed and run-down. He gets sick easily.

He wishes _____.

3. Your parents won't let you go out tomorrow night.

I wish my parents _____.

4. You borrowed your brother's cell phone without asking for permission. Now he's angry.

I wish _____.

5. They won't stop laughing. It's annoying me.

I wish _____.

6. You want to buy someone a present, but you don't have enough money.

If only I _____.

7. Everyone watched the TV sitcom last night. They are all talking about it today. You didn't watch it.

I wish _____.

8. The clown was not funny. The children didn't laugh at his jokes.

I wish _____.

Such...That / So...That

Such and so make the meaning of an adjective or adverb stronger. Such...that and so...that are used to show cause and effect.

such + adjective + noun + that

The new TV sitcom is such a funny show that everyone in my class watches it.

so + adjective or adverb + that

The comedian was so amusing that he had everyone in stitches.

We laughed so much that we had tears in our eyes.

Can't, Could, Couldn't, Must, May, or Might

Use can't, must, may, or might to make suppositions, to speculate about something, and to draw conclusions. Use must to say we are sure of something. Use can't or couldn't to say that we think something is impossible. Use may, might, or could to say that something is possible.

The story about the green aliens can't be true. It might be a prank. It must be April 1st! (present)

The story about the green aliens can't have been true. It might have been a prank. It must have been April 1st! (past)

B. Match the sentences. Then use these ideas to write one sentence with so...that or such...that.

 I'm having such a good time that I don't want to go home.

- | | |
|---|---|
| 1. ___ I'm having a good time. | a. My mouth burned for half an hour after eating it. |
| 2. ___ The food was spicy. | b. We've had to build a shelf to put them on. |
| 3. ___ Emma is a popular name. | c. They only accept one student for every 100 applications. |
| 4. ___ The school is selective. | d. I don't want to go home. |
| 5. ___ The company received many complaints. | e. We'll never be able to finish it all. |
| 6. ___ My brother has won many sports trophies. | f. There are four girls in the class with that name. |
| 7. ___ You have made a big meal. | g. They had to recall the product. |

C. Write sentences to speculate about the situations. Use can't, could, couldn't, must, may or might in your sentences.

 The boys look worried. They must have smashed the window.

boys / worried

1. fans / happy

2. Nawal / angry

3. parents / sad

4. officer / surprised

2 Reading

Before Reading

1. Has anyone ever played a trick on you? If so, explain what happened.
2. Have you ever played a trick on someone else? If so, explain what you did.

Can You Believe They Believed It?

In many countries around the world, the first day of April is a day for playing tricks and pulling pranks. Many of the most amusing and memorable tricks that have been played on this day have been perpetrated by the media.

Perhaps one of the funniest pranks to have ever been pulled off happened on April 1, 1957. On this day, a well-respected British news show called Panorama aired a segment focusing on a supposed spaghetti harvest in southern Switzerland! The anchorman explained that the mild winter had resulted in a huge spaghetti crop. As the anchorman gave details about the “spaghetti crop,” video footage was shown of Swiss people pulling fresh, long strands of spaghetti off of “spaghetti trees” and putting them in baskets.

Convincing viewers wasn’t very difficult. Apparently, this segment was realistic enough to fool a huge number of people. Hundreds of fascinated viewers called into the television station wanting to find out how they could grow their own spaghetti tree. They were told, “Place a sprig of spaghetti in a tin of tomato sauce and hope for the best.” As one studio worker remembers, “The more people called, the harder we laughed.”

Another nationally broadcast prank occurred in Sweden in 1962. At the time the country had only one television channel, and it broadcast in black and white. The station had their technical expert announce to the viewers that a new technology had been created. Astonished viewers listened as he explained that this technology would make it possible to see color images on their black and white television sets. Accomplishing this was easy, he assured the audience. He explained that all that viewers needed to do to convert their black and white televisions to color was to pull a nylon stocking over the screen. He also advised moving one’s head very carefully back and forth to see the best picture. Many viewers got excited, and thousands tried it. Today many Swedes still recall family members running around the house trying to find nylon stockings to place over their television set.

Another remarkable prank was pulled by an Australian news program in 1975. On the program that evening it was announced that Australia would be converting to “metric time.” It was explained that under metric time, there would be 100 seconds in a minute, 100 minutes in an hour, and 20 hours in a day. It was also explained that seconds would become millidays, minutes would become centidays, and hours would become decidays. The report had many convincing details, including an interview with South Australia’s deputy premier and a shot of Adelaide’s town hall clock, with its “new” 10-hour metric clock face. Many people fell for the trick. Some even got angry about it. One viewer was particularly irritated because, as he explained, he had just bought a new clock and thought that it was now useless.

Sometimes it seems the sillier the hoax, the more likely people are to fall for it! So the next time you hear something that sounds too silly to be true, look at your calendar and make sure that it isn’t April first!

Tools for Writing: Avoiding Wordy Sentences

Wordy sentences can make it difficult for readers to understand your meaning. Try to write clear and direct sentences so that your ideas are easy to follow.

Avoid unnecessary repetition of words or ideas.

Wordy: All the clothes in her wardrobe are quirky and unusual.

Revised: Her wardrobe is quirky.

Delete unnecessary words and replace wordy phrases with more concise words.

The Man Who Thought He Had Inherited 12 Million Dollars

Martin received an email claiming that he had inherited a huge sum of money from a bank in an African country. The letter said that a wealthy relative had died and had left him all the money. The letter asked him to send all his details and bank account number to the address enclosed and he would be told how he could get the money.

Martin's dream was to be rich and be able to buy a lot of expensive things. So he...

4 You Are What You Eat

1 Listen and Discuss

1. What is the most unusual thing you have ever eaten?
2. Are you careful about the kinds of foods you eat? Why or why not?
3. What do you think the expression you are what you eat means? Do you agree?

FOOD MYTHS

Circle True or False. Then read and check your answers.

- ① Many Japanese restaurants serve a kind of fish that can kill diners within hours if it is not prepared properly.

True False

- ② Eating chocolate has been linked to an increase in heart disease.

True False

- ③ Fresh vegetables are healthier than frozen vegetables.

True False

- ④ Apples, potatoes, and onions all taste the same when eaten while holding your nose.

True False

- ⑤ Red dye produced from grinding up insects is used in many food items.

True False

1 Blowfish, which are considered a delicacy in Japan, contain deadly toxins. If not properly prepared, eating blowfish can lead to death by poisoning. Victims usually die within 4 to 24 hours of consuming the fish. Blowfish diners count on specially licensed chefs to prepare the fish safely.

2 A number of studies have shown that chocolate consumption may reduce the risk of developing heart disease and cancer. Scientists believe that antioxidants reduce the chances of developing these diseases. Antioxidants are also thought to enhance blood flow and help maintain healthy cholesterol levels. Dark chocolate and cocoa powder are particularly rich sources of antioxidants. In fact, ounce for ounce, dark chocolate and cocoa have more antioxidants than antioxidant-rich foods like blueberries and green tea. Of course, it's not good to eat too much chocolate, but it's not a good idea to cut chocolate out altogether, either.

3 Frozen vegetables are at least as nutritious as fresh vegetables, and may sometimes actually be healthier. Fresh vegetables are at their nutritional peak at the moment they are picked. However, they often spend days or weeks in transit, in the produce aisle, and in your refrigerator. Over time, vegetables lose vitamins and minerals. However, frozen vegetables are picked and frozen at their peak. Freezing locks the vitamins and minerals in. When you do buy fresh vegetables, try to pick out ones that seem fresh and have been grown locally.

4 Up to eighty percent of taste comes not from our taste buds, but from our sense of smell. Taste buds allow us to identify bitter, salty, sweet, and sour flavors. But we depend on the smell of foods to give us most of our sense of flavor. So without smelling the aroma of a food, it is difficult to distinguish one flavor from another. (Incidentally, this is why food loses its flavor when you have a stuffed-up nose!)

5 Many food items with a deep red color, including fruit juices, candies, and gelatin, include a dye called cochineal or carmine. This dye comes from the shells of the female cochineal insect, which is found in South and Central America. The dye has been used for centuries and dates back to the Aztecs.

3 Grammar

Phrasal Verbs

A phrasal verb is made up of a verb + a particle. A particle is a word that is used as an adverb or a preposition. The particle gives the verb a different meaning. One verb can be combined with different particles to create different meanings.

- Didn't you like the dinner? You only picked at it. (pick at = eat without enthusiasm)
 My sister picks on me for being a vegetarian. (pick on = tease)
 We need to pick out a restaurant for the celebration. (pick out = choose)
 Will you pick up a gallon of milk on your way home? (pick up = get, buy)

Separable and Nonseparable Phrasal Verbs

Some phrasal verbs are nonseparable. The noun or pronoun always follows the particle.

- I ran into Reema at the supermarket. (NOT: I ran Reema into at the supermarket.)
 I ran into her. (NOT: I ran her into.)

call for	come from	look into	tire of come across	go on	run into	turn out

Many phrasal verbs are separable. A noun object can come after the particle.

- The chef cut up the steak into small pieces.

A noun object can come in between the verb and the particle.

- The chef cut the steak up into small pieces.

If a pronoun object is used, it must come between the verb and the particle.

- The chef cut it up into small pieces. (NOT: The chef cut up it into small pieces.)

burn off	point out	talk over	turn down cut up	put on	tell apart	turn into figure out	send back	think over	wake up
fit in	take off	throw away	whip up give up	take out	throw out

Three-Word Phrasal Verbs

Three-word phrasal verbs consist of a verb + a particle + a preposition. Three-word phrasal verbs are nonseparable. The noun or pronoun always comes after the phrasal verb.

- The doctor says you must cut down on sugar. (NOT: You must cut sugar down on.)

catch up on	drop out of	get along with	look forward to come down with	feel up to	get rid of	make do with come up with	get away with	load up on	run out of cut down on	get down to	look down on	take care of

- A. Complete the sentences with a particle from the box.
Some of the particles can be used more than once.

for into off on out over up

My sister has gone (1) _____ too many crazy diets. Last month, she was on a diet that called (2) _____ her to eat almost nothing but grapefruit all day. Initially, the diets seem to work. 8 Reading

Before Reading

Read the article and underline the information that tells you how certain popular foods were discovered.

Accidental Food Discoveries

Can you imagine a world without cool, creamy ice-cream cones? Isn't it depressing to imagine life without chewy, delicious, chocolate chip cookies? And who could get by without salty, addictive, crispy potato chips? Yet all these treats are fairly recent inventions that may never have come into existence if it weren't for lucky accidents.

Have you ever enjoyed the cool refreshment of a popsicle on a hot summer day? If so, you have an 11-year-old boy named Frank Epperson to thank. One winter day in 1905, young Epperson was making soda pop by mixing powdered soda and water. He accidentally left the mixing bucket outside with the mixing stick in it overnight. That night, the temperature reached freezing. In the morning, Epperson discovered that the fruit-flavored liquid had frozen to the stick. Although he tried and liked his invention, it wasn't until eighteen years later that it occurred to him to turn his invention into a business. Epperson's children referred to this treat made by their pop as a popsicle. That name stuck and eventually became the official name. Today, popsicles are enjoyed by millions of people around the world.

But, perhaps your dessert of choice on a hot day is an ice-cream cone. If so, you should be glad for the unexpected event that brought two men together at the 1904 St. Louis World's Fair. An ice-cream vendor named Charles Menches was doing such booming business that he ran out of bowls to put the ice cream in. The vendor next to Menches was a young Syrian immigrant named Ernest Hamwi. Hamwi was selling a Syrian treat called zalabia, a crisp, wafer-like pastry. Hamwi came up with a solution to Menches' quandary. Hamwi rolled some of his warm pastry into a cone so that Menches could put ice cream inside. In that instant, a favorite international hot weather treat was born.

Of course, not everyone is a fan of frozen treats. Some prefer the indulgence of delicious freshly baked goods, like chocolate chip cookies. These people should be grateful for an accidental discovery made by an American housewife in 1930. One day Ruth Wakefield was making chocolate cookies when she realized that she had run out of baker's chocolate. Wakefield decided to substitute broken-up pieces of a chocolate bar she had on hand. She assumed that the small pieces of chocolate would melt and mix into the batter. However, after taking the cookies out of the oven, Wakefield discovered that the chocolate hadn't melted. Instead, there were little chips of chocolate throughout the cookie. Much to Wakefield's delight, the chocolate chip cookie proved to be a great success with her family and guests. Wakefield sold the recipe to the chocolate company Nestlé® in exchange for a lifetime supply of chocolate chips. It wasn't long before the chocolate chip cookie became a world-famous treat.

But, if crunchy, salty treats like potato chips are your preference, then you owe a debt of gratitude to a cranky chef and a picky diner who lived over 150 years ago. On August 24, 1853, George Crum was working as a chef in a restaurant when he became frustrated with a customer. The customer had repeatedly sent back his French fries, complaining that they were too thick and soggy. Fed up, Crum decided to teach him a lesson. Crum sliced the potatoes as thinly as possible and fried them in grease. To Crum's astonishment, the customer thought the chips were delectable. They became a regular item on the restaurant's menu and, in time, became a staple of the global fast food industry.

Clearly not all accidents are bad. Some have made our lives richer, sweeter, and tastier!

After Reading

Answer the questions.

1. In your own words, explain how popsicles were invented.
2. Where was the ice-cream cone invented?
3. How did Syrian culture contribute to the invention of the ice-cream cone?
4. What did Ruth Wakefield get from Nestlé® in exchange for her recipe?
5. Why did George Crum originally create the potato chip?

10 Writing

A. Why do you think a meal might be unforgettable? Could it be for good or bad reasons?

1. Read the text and find out.

- Why was each meal memorable?
- Where was each meal served?

• What were the writer's feelings in each case? Highlight parts in the text that convey feelings/attitude.

2. Would you have felt differently? How would you have reacted in each case?

Too Much Seafood

A few years ago, we were at a famous seafood restaurant. A friend of ours went overboard and proceeded to order almost everything on the menu. Soon, immense amounts of seafood started arriving on large platters. We ended up with a feast that could have fed twenty starving people, not six. It was all delicious but there was too much of it. Three of the group were determined to clear everything, so they continued gobbling down fish, seafood, salad, French fries, anything that was still on the table.

Three hours later, we split an exorbitant check among us and walked back to our hotel, feeling unpleasantly full. As expected, we all got sick. Our extravagant friend, who had eaten most of what he had ordered, was taken to the hospital. The rest of us were given strict orders to only consume liquids and stay in bed for the rest of our stay.

Pepper Sauce and Truffle

I was flying back home from France. I had been given a first class seat because the plane was overbooked and my seat had been given to someone else. I did not, of course, mind the change one bit.

I had been traveling on a very tight student budget, and had been trying to cut down on expenses, so I tended to skip meals quite often. After the plane took off, I realized that I was famished. Appetizing smells wafting my way from the galley did nothing to reduce my hunger. Fortunately, we were served very soon. I tasted the food and was truly amazed. It consisted of the most succulent, tastiest bon filet in pepper sauce that I had ever had. It was served with truffles and baked baby potatoes with herbs. The pepper sauce was delicious as were the truffles. I decided that I rather liked flying first class!

A Memorable Holiday Dinner

I'll never forget a meal I had during my freshman year of college. Most students went home for the holidays, but some, like me, who came from different countries, stayed on campus.

Although I had always looked forward to the big holiday dinner at home, this year I figured I would make do with a sandwich. But then I talked with a few other students who had stayed, and we came up with a plan to whip up our own holiday dinner...

Writing Corner

When writing an essay about a memorable event:

- brainstorm and picture different events/occasions/scenes.
- make notes about the picture(s) in your mind.
- think about your reader/audience and select information accordingly.
- check to make sure you would not offend anyone through your account.

focus on the people, the setting, the events, and feelings as required to highlight the aspect you want to focus on.

1 Listen and Discuss

1. In what ways are animals similar to humans?
How are they different?
2. Do you think animals and humans can communicate with each other? If so, in what ways?

Punxsutawney Phil is easily the most famous groundhog in the world. Phil lives in the small U.S. town of Punxsutawney, Pennsylvania, and is cared for by the townspeople. However, every February 2nd, Phil is placed in the ground at Gobbler's Knob, where he carries on a tradition that is over 100 years old. Many people believe the length of the winter can be predicted on this day, called Groundhog Day. It is said that on this day when Phil emerges from his hole, if he sees his shadow, there will be six more weeks of winter weather. If Phil does not see his shadow, spring will arrive early. Can the duration of winter really be predicted by a groundhog? Probably not, but the town has a great time celebrating this tradition.

Koko was a famous gorilla who used human sign language. Koko was taught sign language by psychologist Penny Patterson when Koko was just a baby. Patterson was studying whether gorillas could be taught to communicate. Although the study was only supposed to last a couple of years, Patterson and Koko developed a lifelong bond and worked together ever since. Koko began by learning basic words like eat, drink, and more, and eventually learned abstract ideas such as love, jealous, and shame. It is believed that Koko could sign over 1,000 words, and that she understood about 2,000 spoken words. Koko was also famous for having pet kittens. She was always extremely gentle and affectionate with her kittens.

A mouser is a cat that is kept for the purpose of catching mice. In England, there has been a mouser at the Prime Minister's residence for centuries. The most popular of these cats was a stray named Humphrey who, in 1989, was the first cat to receive the official title "Chief Mouser to the Cabinet Office." His care cost 100 pounds and was paid from the department's budget. It was said to be far cheaper than the fees previously paid to exterminators. Humphrey, who was beloved in the UK, retired in 1997.

One day in 1969, John Rendall and Anthony Burke saw a real live lion cub in a London department store window. Feeling that a lion should not be kept this way, they bought him and took him home to live in Rendall's basement. The lion, whom they named Kristyan, is said to have been an affectionate and extremely cooperative cat who even used a giant kitty litter box. Kristyan was pampered. He was brought on drives, strolls through the neighborhood, and even to restaurants. But when Kristyan grew to almost 200 pounds (90 kilograms), it was decided that he should be released into the wild. Kristyan was brought to Africa where he adapted to life in the wild and eventually became the leader of a group of lions. A year later, Rendall and Burke traveled to Africa to say goodbye. They were warned that Kristyan would not remember them. However, when Kristyan saw his old friends, he ran towards them, stood on his back legs, and joyfully gave each of them a long and loving embrace.

3 Grammar

Passive Modals

Passive modals follow this structure: modal + be + past participle.

Active Modal

They will release the tiger into the wild.
The vet may cancel the cat's checkup.
You can train a parrot to talk.
You should clean the bird's cage weekly.
You have to provide fresh water every day.
You must keep your hamster in the cage.

Passive Modal

The tiger will be released into the wild.
The cat's checkup may be canceled.
Parrots can be trained to talk.
The bird's cage should be cleaned weekly.
Fresh water has to be provided every day.
Your hamster must be kept in the cage.

The Passive with Reporting Verbs

We often use the passive with reporting verbs when we want to talk about what people say or believe, but the identity of the people isn't known or isn't important.

1) It + passive reporting verb + that + clause

It is said that she is the leading expert on gorilla communication.
(People say that she is the leading expert on gorilla communication.)

It is believed that dolphins are the most intelligent of animals.
(People believe that dolphins are the most intelligent of animals.)

2) Subject + passive reporting verb + to + infinitive (or perfect infinitive)

She is said to be the leading expert on gorilla communication.
Dolphins are believed to be the most intelligent of animals.

With present tense sentences, the passive reporting verb is followed by a present infinitive.

The cat is thought to be lost.

With past tense sentences, the passive reporting verb is followed by the perfect infinitive.

The cat was thought to have been lost sometime last week.

Reporting verbs that can be used in the passive include:

believe	claim	estimate	feel	say
calculate	consider	expect	hope	think

A. Circle A if the sentence is active. Circle P if it is passive.

- Young animals are often difficult to control.
- Crocodiles are believed to be related to the dinosaurs.
- Birds of prey can be found on every continent except Antarctica.
- Because they cannot fly, penguins must live in areas where food is plentiful.
- Penguins can stay alive in colder weather longer than any other animal on Earth.
- Cats are said to be more independent than other pets.
- Elephants in captivity should be given pedicures to keep their feet healthy.
- It is said that animals behave strangely before an earthquake.

- Sami: I'm interested in speaking to someone about horse training. A friend of mine suggested I come here.
- Omar: What kind of problems are you having with your horse?
- Sami: He's a beautiful, strong, and affectionate horse, but he's driving me crazy. He won't follow instructions. He will gallop instead of cantering, he won't turn when I need him to, and if he spots a patch of grass, he'll head straight for it and ignore me completely.
- Omar: I gather you have a young stallion. I will check the schedule and we can arrange training sessions for you and your horse. Hang in there!
- Sami: OK, but in the meantime, I really need some advice. How should I handle him when he disobeys?
- Omar: Well, I can try and give you a few tips now. You say he'll head straight for a patch of grass when he sees one. Do you let him do that when you are out riding?
- Sami: Well, sometimes. But only if I want to stop for a minute or so.
- Omar: You need to set rules and then stick with them 24/7. If you're not consistent, he's not going to learn.
- Sami: OK. But when he is all friendly and nice, it's hard not to let him do what he wants.
- Omar: Look, I'm going to get to the point. It sounds to me like your horse is calling the shots. You need to be firmer. If you train your horse not to do something then suddenly let him do it, you'll be back to the drawing board.

8 Reading

Before Reading

In what ways do people benefit from animal companionship?

Animal Heroes

One night, Pilar was in a deep sleep when she was woken by her cat Inti. Inti was meowing wildly outside Pilar's bedroom and throwing himself against the closed bedroom door. When Pilar opened her eyes, she saw that her bedroom was filling with smoke. As she escaped her house with Inti in her arms, she saw that a fire was blazing in her kitchen. Pilar could easily have lost consciousness from breathing in the smoke, but Inti would not let that happen. Even though Inti could have escaped the house through a cat door, he wouldn't leave Pilar. A fireman at the scene said, "Without question, that cat is responsible for saving his owner's life. He should be honored as a hero."

As amazing as this story is, it is not as uncommon as you may think. There are countless stories of animals coming to the aid of humans in life-threatening situations. Animals are said to have a sixth sense for danger. Often they are alert to danger before humans are and have used this awareness to protect humans from harm.

Take the example of Charlotte Lee and her horse, Thunder. One warm, summer night, the whole family was asleep with the windows open. It was normally very quiet where they lived. There were only a few farm houses scattered about the area and hardly any traffic. All of a sudden, there was a loud crashing noise from the stable. Charlotte woke up with a start, and her heart pounding, as the noise continued. She was so frightened, she froze; no matter how hard she tried she could not move. The noise stopped as suddenly as it had started, and she heard a horse galloping towards the house. The next thing she saw was Thunder standing outside her window, neighing and shaking his head as he stomped on the wooden porch. She knew enough about horses to know that Thunder was disturbed for a reason, and wasted no time speculating. She quickly got everyone out of the house before the earthquake hit. Part of the roof caved in and crashed into her room. Thunder had deliberately saved her life.

Yet it is not only domesticated animals who have acted heroically. There are also stories of wild animals coming to the rescue of humans. One animal known to be a friend and protector of humans is the dolphin. Dolphins are considered to be among the most intelligent of animals. On dozens of occasions, they have used this intelligence to come to the aid of humans in dangerous situations. One such story involves a surfer named Todd Endris. Todd was surfing with his friends when he was attacked by a 13-foot (4-meter) shark. In the middle of the attack, a group of dolphins came to his rescue by forming a protective ring around Endris until he could get safely to shore. Without the help of the dolphins, there is little chance that Todd would have survived.

At times, even animals commonly considered aggressive and dangerous have come to the aid of humans. One famous case involves Binti Jua, an eight-year-old female gorilla who lives at the Brookfield Zoo in Illinois, U.S.A. Binti was celebrated as a hero when she protected a three-year-old boy who fell into the walled gorilla area. Binti picked up the unconscious boy, carefully cradled him in her arms, and brought him to the zookeeper's door so that he could be taken out. After four days in the hospital, the boy recovered completely.

No one is sure why animals have so often come to our aid. However, it is clear evidence of the deep and powerful bond between humans and animals. It is important that we respect this bond by treating animals with the care and compassion that they often show us.

After Reading

Answer the questions.

1. In what way do animals have a sixth sense?
2. What did Thunder do to protect Charlotte?
3. What reputation do dolphins have? What story demonstrates this?
4. What did dolphins do to save Todd Endris's life?
5. How was a young boy saved by a gorilla at the Brookfield Zoo?

- A. 1. Work in pairs/groups. What do you know about dolphins? What would you like to find out about them?
2. Read the text and find out about:
 - the origin of dolphins
 - types of dolphins and their eating habits
 - the bottlenose dolphin
 - special abilities dolphins have
 - their relationship with people
3. Read the text again and:
 - identify the topic of each paragraph
 - find out if you can re-order paragraphs
 - decide if you like the way the text begins and ends

All About Dolphins

Dolphins are marine mammals that are claimed to have evolved from land mammals some 50 or 60 million years ago! Studies indicate that they are closely related to hippos, camels, and cows! There has been an unending debate on the exact origin of dolphins and whales that is likely to continue for years to come.

There are 32 types of dolphins that live in salt water. Dolphins eat about 20 to 25 kilos of fish per day. Their eating habits vary depending on the area and the time of year. If there is an abundance of fish, they will happily consume as much as they need. Interestingly, dolphins regulate their food intake according to the fat content of the fish available, and their hunger! In this sense, they can probably control their food intake more efficiently than humans! Did you also know that their brains weigh more than ours?

Dolphins can:

- recognize themselves in a mirror
- scan objects in the water using sonar
- sleep with one eye closed
- whistle and recognize each other by their whistles
- go to a depth of about 260 meters

There is mutual interest between dolphins and people. They are as interested in observing us as we are in them.

Dolphins love having fun, communicating, and playing. They are also keen on helping and supporting their own kind and other species that are in danger.

The bottlenose dolphin is the most studied and familiar to people, with a life expectancy of about 40 to 50 years. Bottlenose dolphins show an extraordinary connection with humans and have rescued injured divers repeatedly.

These wonderful creatures deserve our admiration and respect and need to be protected.

The Peregrine Falcon

I've always liked falcons. I think their speed, marksmanship, and strength are unmatched. I have particularly admired Peregrines for their speed and hunting skills, but was not sure about their origin and habitat. It wasn't until I researched these incredible hunters that I discovered they could be found anywhere in the world.

The Peregrine is the world's most widespread bird of prey. The name of the species means "wandering falcon"...

Writing Corner

When you write a descriptive essay about a species:

- try not to copy the information that you have found as it is; read it, make notes, and rephrase in your own words.
- make the description more attractive for your reader by adding personal feelings and opinions.
- notice that when referring to the animal you may repeat its name, use a pronoun, or a distinguishing feature, e.g. these incredible hunters, or refer to it through its category, e.g. this bird, these creatures, etc.

select information that is genuinely interesting.

share your feelings, e.g. enthusiasm, fondness, interest, etc. with your reader.

11 Form, Meaning and Function

Adjectives

Position of Adjectives

Use adjectives to describe nouns. Place adjectives either after the verb be or before a noun.

Dolphins are intelligent.

Cats are very independent.

Giant pandas may become extinct in the future.

Dolphins are intelligent animals.

Tigers are very independent animals.

Giant pandas are an endangered species.

Note: We use become to describe a changing situation.

Adjectives from Verbs and Nouns

A lot of adjectives are formed from verbs and nouns. Many adjectives are formed by adding the following suffixes: -y, -ful, -less, -ate, -al, -ive, -ous, -ic, -ed or -ing.

(noun) Health is very important.

(adjective) Keeping pets healthy is very important.

(noun) You won't get much use out of that bag.

(adjective) That bag is useless.

(noun) The tall buildings in Dubai made a big impression on the tourists.

(adjective) I felt impressed when I saw the very tall hotel.

(noun) Please take care when feeding the animals.

(adjective) Please be careful.

(noun) Young children have a lot of energy.

(adjective) Young children are very energetic.

(adjective) The tourists found the tall buildings in Dubai very impressive.

(verb) Photos of Dubai impress many people.

A. Read the sentences and write the correct form of the adjective from the word(s) given in parentheses.

1. One day in 1969, John Rendall and Anthony Burke saw a real live lion cub in a London department store window. (life)
2. The lion is said to have been an _____ and extremely _____ cat. (affection, cooperation)
3. When Kristyan saw his old friends, he ran towards them, stood on his back legs, and _____ gave each of them a long and _____ embrace. (joy, love)
4. Punxsutawney Phil is easily the most _____ groundhog in the world. (fame)
5. Elephants in captivity should be given pedicures to keep their feet _____. (health)
6. He's a _____ and strong horse. (beauty)
7. Ali owns a very _____ young horse. (energy)
8. Many true stories demonstrate that horses are _____ human companions. (loyalty)

B. Choose an animal to research and talk about. Find out about its origins, diet, appearance and characteristics. Make comparisons between your animal and other animals or breeds. Tell your partner about your animal.

All / Both / Neither / None

Use all, both, neither and none to compare two or more things, places, animals or people.

All tigers, cheetahs, leopards, and lions are big cats.

Both cheetahs and leopards are fast animals.

Neither tigers nor lions can be domesticated.

None of the big cats can be domesticated. They are all wild animals.

Both... and... / Neither... nor... / Either... or...

Both...and, neither...nor, and either...or are all paired conjunctions. They are used to link two words, phrases, or clauses of the same type. For example, nouns are linked with nouns, adjectives are linked with adjectives, and verbs are linked with verbs.

My favorite animal is either an elephant or a camel.

Both camels and elephants are intelligent animals.

When connecting two subjects with both...and, be sure to use a plural verb.

Both my father and his boss were present at the meeting.

When connecting two subjects using either...or or neither...nor, the choice to use a singular or plural verb depends on the subject that is closer to the verb.

Neither my uncle nor my brothers want to see that documentary.

Neither my brothers nor my uncle wants to see that documentary.

C. Read the fact boxes about two well-known personalities. Write sentences about the two people using both, neither and either. Compare with a partner.

💡 Both Prince Sultan bin Salman and Majed Ahmed Abdullah spent their childhood in Riyadh.
Neither I nor my brother have seen a better football striker than Majed Ahmed Abdullah.

Prince Sultan bin Salman

- He was born in 1956 in Riyadh.
- He completed university and flight training in the U.S.
- He was on the Saudi Media Committee during the 1984 Olympics.
- He was the youngest person to fly on the Space Shuttle Discovery at the age of 28.
- He helped with organizations for the disabled.
- He became Secretary General of the Saudi Commission for Tourism and Antiquities.
- He became involved in preserving Saudi architectural heritage.

- He was born in Jeddah.
- He moved to Riyadh with his family when he was very young.
- Majed Ahmed Abdullah one of the best football strikers in the history of Saudi Arabia.
- He scored 4 goals against India during the 1984 Summer Olympics.
- Many newspaper articles have been written about him.

1 Dilemma

Russ is at the airport to catch a flight. He is on his way to his brother's wedding. His flight is about to leave. As he runs through the terminal to his departure gate, an elderly man suddenly slips and falls in front of him. The man cries out in pain. Russ knows that if he stopped to help the man, he would miss his flight. If he missed his flight, he would miss his brother's wedding. Russ runs past the man as if he hadn't seen him.

Would you have done what Russ did?

3 Dilemma

A ship strikes an iceberg and ten passengers crowd into a lifeboat that is only intended to hold nine. The lifeboat slowly starts to sink because of the extra weight. If it does, all ten passengers will die in the freezing water. The captain considers his choices and decides to force the weakest individual out of the lifeboat. He reasons that if he did nothing, everyone would drown. This way only one person drowns, and this person would have drowned anyway. Others on the lifeboat feel that this choice is morally wrong. They say that if he did nothing, then even if none of them survived, at least no one would be responsible for anyone's death.

If you were the captain, what would you do?

4 Dilemma

Mariana has struggled in science class for years. This year, to help motivate her, Mariana's parents have told her that if she receives a B on her report card, they will help her buy a cell phone. But Mariana has done poorly in the class and knows that her final grade will be a D. The day her report card is due to arrive in the mail, Mariana arrives home from school and is greeted by her parents with hugs and smiles. She takes a look at the report card and sees that her grade in science is an A. Clearly this is a mistake, but Mariana can get away with it if she doesn't say anything. The cell phone is only part of the reason that she's tempted not to say anything. She also dreads the idea of seeing the pride on her parents' faces vanish.

What would you do if you were Mariana?

"All sunshine makes the desert."

—Arabic proverb

"Ask the experienced rather than the learned."

Quick Check ✓

A. Vocabulary. Complete each sentence with one of these words:

dread	motivate	tempted
morally	responsible	vanish

1. Who is _____ for cleaning up this mess?
2. My mother's cookies always _____ moments after she takes them out of the oven.
3. The beautiful weather helped _____ me to go outside and get some exercise.
4. People should feel that it's _____ wrong to buy stolen goods.
5. I _____ taking final exams next week.
6. I was _____ to watch the film on TV, but I made myself study instead.

B. Comprehension. Answer the questions.

1. Why is Russ at the airport?
2. What does Russ decide to do?
3. What is Mike considering doing? Why?
4. What is the problem on the lifeboat?
5. Why is Mariana tempted to not tell the truth about her science grade?

2 Pair Work

Work with a partner to create a morally challenging situation, or a dilemma. Discuss what your classmates would do in the situation.

3 Grammar

Present Hypothetical Conditionals versus Past Hypothetical Conditionals

We use present hypothetical conditionals to talk about imaginary situations. The simple past tense is used in the if-clause. Would, could, or might is used in the result clause.

If you asked me my opinion, I would tell you the truth.
If we knew where she lived, we could send her flowers.

We use past hypothetical conditionals to talk about things that did not happen in the past. They are often used to express regret or criticism. The past perfect is used in the if-clause. Would have, could have, or might have is used in the result clause.

If I had tutored him, he might have passed the test.
(But I didn't tutor him, so he didn't pass the test.)
If Audra had been honest, she would not have gotten into trouble.
(But Audra didn't tell the truth, so she did get into trouble.)

Implied Conditionals

Sometimes the if-clause is implied rather than stated directly.

We would have helped you. (if you had asked us)
I would have called the police. (if I had been there)
What would I do without you? (if you weren't here)

As If / As Though for Unreal Situations

We can use as if and as though + a past or past perfect verb to suggest that something is unreal or untrue.

He talks as if he were an expert in the field.
They act as though they had not cheated on the test.

Note: Either was or were can be used with the subjects I, he, she, or it. However, were is considered more formal and generally used in writing.

A. Rewrite each sentence as a conditional.

 My sister doesn't know what happened, so she's not mad at me.
If my sister knew what happened, she would be mad at me.

1. Ibrahim doesn't take good care of himself. That is why he gets sick so often.
 2. He had an accident because he wasn't driving carefully enough.
 3. I took the course because I didn't know how hard it would be.
 4. He isn't my son, so I can't tell him what to do.
 5. I'd like to help the poor, but I have no extra money.
 6. You don't pay attention in class, so you don't understand the lessons.
 7. Aisha didn't tell her parents about the problem, so they couldn't help her.
- We didn't have time, so we didn't visit him in the hospital.

B. Write what you would do, or would have done in each situation. Use an implied conditional.

💡 Ali uses his friend's computer and accidentally deletes an important file. He decides not to tell his friend.

What would you have done?

I would have told my friend the truth.

1. When Aisha got home from the bookstore, she realized that she hadn't been charged for one of the books she bought. She went back to the bookstore to pay for it.

What would you have done?

2. While pulling out of the supermarket parking lot, Hameed hits another car. There is a small dent on the other car. Hameed can't decide what he should do.

What would you do?

3. Fatima bought a new dress. She tries it on and asks what Maha thinks of it. Maha doesn't like it, but says she does.

What would you have done?

4. Mona's teenage daughter has seemed unhappy lately, but won't talk to Mona. Mona is worried. Her daughter accidentally leaves her journal on the couch. Mona reads it.

What would you have done?

5. Sarah brings her grandmother a nice dessert. Her grandmother tells her how delicious it is and how impressed she is that Sarah made it. Sarah bought the dessert from a store. She decides not to tell her grandmother. What would you do?

C. Use the cue words to write a new sentence with as though or as if.

💡 Bianca is not a queen.
behaving / as if

She is behaving as if she were a queen.

1. I am not dreaming.
feel / as though / be

2. We are not rich.
spending money / as though

3. Asma doesn't like Sophie.
acts / as though

4. You did not see something scary.

4 Conversation

Khaled: Can I talk to you about a problem I'm struggling with?

Majid: Sure. What's going on?

Khaled: Well, I've been working at a clothing store in the mall for a month now. Last week, I saw a guy I work with stuffing a shirt into his bag. When I asked him about it, he acted all innocent. Then this week, I caught him taking a pair of pants. This time he promised he wouldn't steal anything again and begged me not to tell the manager.

Majid: So what are you going to do?

Khaled: That's the problem, I don't know. If I told the manager, he would get fired.

Majid: Yeah, but now that you know about it, if you don't tell the manager, you'll be helping him get away with stealing. He's put you in a rotten position.

Khaled: I know. What do you think I should do?

Majid: The way I see it, if he's stolen twice before, he's likely to steal again. You can't trust him. Do you think he might even steal from the cash register?

Khaled: I wouldn't put it past him.

Majid: It seems to me that you may get yourself in trouble if you don't blow the whistle on him. Of course, it's your call, but if I were you, I would let the manager know.

Khaled: Yeah. You're probably right.

About the Conversation

5 Listening

Listen to the radio segment about hikers requiring rescue on Mount Hood in Oregon in the U.S. Answer true or false.

1. _____ Mount Hood is 1,300 meters high.
2. _____ Each year, 25 to 50 people require rescue on Mount Hood.
3. _____ December is one of the best times of year to hike on Mount Hood.
4. _____ Weather conditions in December are mild.
5. _____ During one rescue, rescue workers in a helicopter were killed when it crashed.
6. _____ Currently, taxpayers pay for Mount Hood rescues.

6 Pronunciation

In a sentence, content words are words with clear meanings such as nouns, verbs, adjectives, and adverbs. They are usually stressed.

Function words, like articles, auxiliary verbs, pronouns, and prepositions join content words into sentences. They are usually not stressed. Listen and practice.

1. Three experienced climbers went hiking in the middle of a snowstorm.
2. The weather conditions are favorable for hikers in May and June.
3. In December, the mountain is covered in snow and ice.
4. Temperatures can drop below freezing at this time of year.
5. Most of the Mount Hood rescue workers are volunteers.
6. There is no charge for these rescues.

8 Reading

Before Reading

Read the article and underline all the potential diseases that can be identified using genetic testing.

Peeking into Our Medical Future

Did you know that a drop of your blood can predict diseases you may develop in the future? This is possible through genetic testing—testing that analyzes the genetic information found in the cells of your body. Each cell contains a sample of DNA. The information in DNA can help determine a person's risk of developing certain diseases years from now.

The most common type of genetic testing is called “newborn screening.” The goal of newborn screening is to identify treatable genetic disorders in newborn babies. In many countries, infants are screened in the hospital shortly after they are born. Although it is rare to find that a baby has a genetic disorder, those that do have a disorder start receiving treatment right away. This early diagnosis and treatment prevents physical and mental problems, and sometimes even death.

Another type of genetic testing is called “predictive gene testing.” This is used to predict an adult's risk of developing certain diseases later in life. People who undergo this type of genetic testing are usually from a family in which many members have had a particular inherited disease, like certain cancers or Alzheimer's disease.

There are many obvious benefits to this kind of testing. A negative test (a test that says a person is not likely to develop a disorder) can bring a tremendous sense of relief. Jen Thomson, who recently underwent predictive gene testing for colon cancer, explains, “So many people in my family died of colon cancer, I worried constantly. When the test came back negative, I felt as if someone had lifted an enormous weight off my shoulders.” A positive test has benefits as well. It warns of the need for preventative care, like frequent checkups, dietary changes, medicines, or even the option of surgically removing the part likely to develop the disease. For example, if Thomson's test had been positive, she might have chosen to have her colon removed.

There are also some controversial downsides to genetic testing. The value of genetic testing is particularly questionable when testing for a disease that is untreatable. For example, Alzheimer's disease runs in An Lee's family. An has decided to get genetic testing to see if she is likely to develop it. Her husband Bao is not happy about her choice. Bao explains, “If the result is positive, how will it help to know that she will probably develop the disease?”

If I had the Alzheimer's gene, I wouldn't want to know." Another issue is that even if someone tests positive for a disease, it doesn't mean that they will definitely develop the disease. So a person could spend years worrying about something that never ends up happening.

Genetic testing has the potential to impact millions of lives in the future. Many are excited about the future of genetics, while others have deep concerns about it. But for better or for worse, soon we may all have the ability to peek into our medical future.

After Reading

Answer true or false.

1. _____ To get a sample of DNA, doctors must draw a large quantity of blood.
2. _____ Newborn screening is not a common type of genetic testing.
3. _____ Predictive gene testing can be done for treatable and untreatable disorders.
4. _____ A positive test generally brings great relief to the test-taker.
5. _____ If someone tests positive for a disease, they will definitely develop the disease.

9 Speaking

1. Work in pairs or groups. Think about what you have read and heard about genetic testing and discuss the question below:
If you were offered genetic testing, would you do it? Why? Why not?
2. Make notes in the chart. Then use your notes to discuss your views in class.

Type of genetic testing you read/heard about	Reasons for taking the test	Reasons against taking the test	Should it be made available to everyone? Why? Why not?

A. How do you think people decide on a field of study or a job? Which factors affect their decision/choice?

1. Read the text and find out.

- What did the writer originally want to study?
- Why did he give up his original plan?
- Why do you think he took different training courses?
- What had he done to qualify as a language teacher?
- What other job opportunity did he have?
- What prompted him to make his final choice?

Does he regret it?

2. What would you have done?

3. Read the text again and find out.

- Are all the events presented in chronological order? How do you know?
- Which sentences/phrases/words provide information about the writer's thoughts, attitude, and feelings?
- Which part reveals the writer's position on the matter?
- Are there sections/phrases/sentences that address a longer period of time in real terms but very briefly?
- Are there sections/phrases/sentences that address a shorter period of time in real terms but in greater detail?

After I finished school, I chose to try out a number of things before settling on one field of study or profession. I had originally wanted to go to art school but had changed my mind when I found out how hard it was for graduates to find employment. I was also reluctant to go ahead with it, because I knew that my father was likely to disapprove in a quiet but very noticeable manner. He wanted me to study medicine, but I didn't.

I took a number of courses in typing, shorthand, French, art, design, and literature and worked part-time as a public relations assistant, a shop assistant, etc. Eventually, I started studying psychology, philosophy, and linguistics. I had also managed to attend a teaching methodology course that qualified me as a language teacher, but I was not at all certain that I wanted a teaching career.

At some point, I was approached by a new airline company that invited me to do an interview, followed by a test before I could be offered a job. At the time, I used to help out with registration at a large language center where my uncle taught. So, I agreed to spend the next few days working for them from morning till evening, totally forgetting the airline company. Two days later, the man I knew from the airline company turned up and accused me of being irresponsible because I had not bothered to check with the airline company on the final results and a job offer. He said there was still time to do it, but I would have to drop what I was doing and run. For some reason, I did exactly the opposite; I stayed put, thanked him and went back to work.

Later that evening, I was offered my first teaching job by the director of studies. I have often wondered what my life would have been like if I had chosen the airline company instead, but not too enthusiastically. Regardless of difficulties and ups and downs, this is the choice that has become a life's choice and no amount of wondering is likely to ever make me regret it.

- B. 1. Think of an important decision you or a family member has made.
2. Compare what your life is like now to what it would have been like if you or a family member had made a different decision. Use the chart to organize your ideas.
3. Write a personal narrative on this subject.

Life Now	How Life Would Have Been Different

A Life-Changing Decision

After I graduated from high school, I had the choice of going to a university in my hometown, or going to one far from home. I chose to go to the university far from home. Although I am happy with my choice, sometimes I feel as if I live a million miles from home. If I had chosen differently, it would have led to a very different life for me...

Writing Corner

When you write a reflective and speculative personal narrative, think about the following:

- what has already happened
- what opportunities were available and what results have taken place
- what feelings and attitudes you have experienced
- which people were involved directly or indirectly
- how to present your ideas so you can set the context clearly for your reader

Then refer to the real context and:

- reflect and/or evaluate the decision/choice you made.
- wonder/speculate how things might have been different.
- address the question to your reader.
- express satisfaction or regret about your decision/choice.

11 Form, Meaning and Function

Future Progressive

Use the future progressive (will + be + present participle) for continuous actions in the future.

Affirmative (+)

Genetic testing has the potential to impact millions of lives. Soon we will all be peeking into our medical futures.

Questions (?)

Will you be working on the weekend?

Short Answers (+)

Yes, I will.

Short Answers (-)

No, I won't.

Future Perfect

The future perfect is used to express the idea that an action will be completed in the future, before another event or before another specific time in the future. The future perfect is formed with will have + past participle.

By this time tomorrow, we will have had the medical test results back.

Time Expressions for the Future

A week from today, I'll be working in my new job.

By the year 2025, we will all have undergone genetic testing at birth.

By the time I am elderly, smart robots will have become commonplace.

- A. Use the future progressive or the future perfect to complete each sentence. In some cases, both forms are possible.

💡 Sheri started studying genetics in 2020. By 2024, she will have been studying genetics for four years.

1. My parents got married in 1990. By 2022, _____.
2. My brother became a vegetarian three weeks ago. By next week, _____.
3. Jasim starts his new job today. A week from now _____.
4. Some hospitals have used robots in surgery. By 2035, all _____.
5. I've already lost five kilograms on my diet. If I lose another two, _____.

- B. Use the future perfect to combine the future events into one sentence, using by or by the time. Write the sentences in your notebook.

💡 1st Event: I will graduate from college.
By 2023, I will have graduated from college.

2nd Event: 2023 will come.

1. 1st Event: The football game will start.

2nd Event: We will arrive at the stadium.

2. 1st Event: I will fall asleep.

2nd Event: This TV show will be over.

3. 1st Event: I will pass my law exams.

2nd Event: 2025 will come.

4. 1st Event: My father will work as a medical doctor for 20 years.

2nd Event: He will retire.

Used To versus Be Used To

Used to + the base form of a verb is used to talk about an action that was repeated habitually in the past but no longer happens now; and to describe a past situation which is no longer true.

Tom didn't use to cheat on school tests. He used to be an honest person. He used to study hard. He used to be a good student.

Note: For the negative, use didn't use to (omit the -d).

Be used to + gerund or noun is used to talk about something that has become familiar or habitual.

Some people think it's crazy that he works seven days a week. But he is used to it.

Although she is a millionaire now, she isn't used to shopping in expensive stores.

Note: For the negative, use be + not + used to (do not omit the -d).

Was/Were Going To (Future in the Past)

Was/Were + going to + the base form of a verb is used to talk about a prediction for the future made in the past, or a past plan that was not carried out.

When he saw the old man fall, Russ wasn't going to stop. He was going to keep running to catch his flight.

Russ realized this was wrong, so he stopped and helped the old man.

- C. Look at the pictures. Complete the paragraph about how Fahd's life has changed since he adopted a healthy lifestyle. Use used to, be used to and was going to.

💡 A year ago, Fahd's life was very different . . .

One year ago

Now

- D. Think of an important decision you or your family made in the past that has changed your life. Talk about what you used to do before the change and what you are used to doing now. Tell your partner.

Before we moved to the city, I used to ...

2 Reading

Before Reading

1. Do you think it is possible to move objects with your mind? Explain.
2. How do you think technology could help make this possible?

Mind Over Matter

Imagine yourself sitting on the couch, exhausted after a long day, wishing you had the TV remote control. Wouldn't it be great if, instead of getting up to pick it up from the coffee table, you could use your mind to turn the TV on and flip through the channels? This idea may sound like science fiction, but it may not be as far-fetched as it sounds.

The ability to move objects with the mind is known as telekinesis. It has long been speculated that people use only a small portion of their brains. It is said that if we used the full potential of our brain, we would discover that it has amazing abilities, including the ability to move objects without touching them.

One person famous for her alleged ability to use her brain this way was Nina Kulagina. Kulagina, a Russian housewife born in 1927, caused a sensation in the 1960s and 70s with her alleged mental powers. Kulagina demonstrated her ability in a number of experiments, many of which were filmed. In one experiment, she separated the yolk and the white of an egg dropped into a tank of water. In her most incredible experiment, Kulagina used her mind to slow a frog's heartbeat until it stopped completely.

Many in the scientific community are skeptical about whether Kulagina's powers were real or just a trick. However, many of these same people believe it is entirely possible for the brain to move an object—with the help of technology. For decades, scientists have been working on finding a way to make it possible for disabled people who do not have use of their hands to control devices with the brain. Recently, great progress has been made in this effort.

In 2004, a paralyzed 25-year-old man named Matthew Nagle became the first person to benefit from such technology. Nagle had a chip that could read his mind implanted in his brain. Wires connected to both the chip and a computer fed the information from the chip into the computer. The computer analyzed this information, and converted it into computer commands. The computer then sent these commands to various devices in Nagle's home.

As a result, Nagle was able to do things like turn the lights in his home on and off, and open email, just by thinking about doing these things. The hope is that one day this technology will make it possible for people like Nagle to regain the use of their arms and legs.

Recent research has focused on making this technology simpler by replacing the computer chip with a cap. Brain waves can be picked up by the cap and sent to a computer, which then carries out the commands. The advantage of this approach is that the cap is wireless and does not require surgery. However, further research is needed to make this wireless technology as effective as the brain chip.

While this technology has the possibility of dramatically improving the lives of disabled people, there are also many less dramatic, commercial uses for it. For example, one company is developing a remote control that can be controlled with thoughts. So the next time you are feeling too lazy to get off the couch to get the remote control, take heart—soon you may indeed be able to stay on the couch and turn on your TV without lifting a finger!

Tools for Writing: The Definite Article and Generalizations

The definite article, the, is used to talk about one specific object or person.

They got the cat from the Eastside Animal Shelter.

However, the definite article is not used when speaking generally.

People drink coffee to help them stay awake. NOT: ~~The people drink the coffee to help them stay awake.~~

Read the sentences. Cross out the where it appears incorrectly.

1. The men are often taller than women.
2. The students in Ms. Fatima's class work harder than the students in Ms. Badria's class.
3. The people in Saudi Arabia enjoy calligraphy and poetry.
4. The people at the fair enjoyed the rides and the food.
5. It is always frustrating to drive in the traffic.
6. The traffic in my area is terrible in the morning.

Writing Prompt

Write an essay about a new kind of technology. It can be a technology that is already in use or that will be used in the future. Explain the technology and tell the reader whether you think it is a good thing or not, and why.

Write Your Essay

1. Decide what technology you want to write about.
2. Use two or three sources from the library or Internet to find information about the technology. Use a note-taking chart to keep track of your sources and the information you find in each.

Source	Notes

3. Write a draft of your essay.
4. Have a partner read and comment on your draft. Use your partner's comments and suggestions to revise your essay. Include a list of the sources you used in your final draft.

Developing Your Writing: Taking Notes and Citing Sources

Take notes on key facts and note the source of the information. It is important to put the information in your own words, rather than simply copying text word for word from your source. Copying the words of another writer and using them as your own is called plagiarism.

Include a list of your sources at the end of your essay. If the source is a book, write the name of the author, the title of the book, the city and name of the publisher, and the year it was published. If the source is a Web page, write the name of the author (if known), the website title, the title of the article, the date you found the page, and the URL of the page.

Robotic Surgery

You may think of robots as things that only turn up in science fiction, but robots are actually a part of everyday life. Robots are used for many different tasks. For example, robots are used to manufacture cars, to explore space, and to assist the military and police officers in dangerous situations. And believe it or not, now robots can even be used to perform surgery on patients ...
